Nazi Raiders Suffer Heavy Losses, Claim

Chamberlain Cites Toll Among Fliers And U-Boats

DENIES REPORTS

Says Britain Winning Propaganda Battle Over War Issues

London—(P)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today that Britain was winning over Germany in the propaganda battle over war issues.

Making his seventh weekly report on progress of the war, Chamberlain also said that, in addition to eight German aircraft known to have been shot down in air battles over the British Isles, "it is believed" that several more "may have failed to reach home."

Total German aircraft taking part in the raids, he said, did not exceed 30 and casualties inflicted by British guns and fighters "exceed 25 per cent and may have been more."

The prime minister said that since his last rejection of German peace proposals as too vague, "there has been no indication from Berlin of the views of the German government upon the issues" and continued.

"German propaganda organs have used all possible ingenuity so to twist foreign comment as to make it somewhat less unfavorable to their own point of view."

"Fantastic" Claims

"I should doubt whether this effort has had any success outside Germany itself, for it is difficult to conceal the fact that the vast bulk of comment of nearly all shades of political color in neutral countries has shown a full appreciation of the attitude of the allied governments (Britain and France)."

The prime minister spoke of "fantastic" claims by Germany of successful attacks on British war vessels and declared:

"It is not true that the Hood or the Repulse or any other capital ship has suffered the least damage. The same is true of the Ark Royal."

The Hood and Repulse are battle cruisers. The Ark Royal is an aircraft carrier. Britain has denied reports that the Ark Royal was sunk and the Hood and Repulse damaged.

War On Western Front

He said a heavy toll of German submarines had been taken since the war began and pointed out that losses by British ships entering and leaving port during the week ended yesterday represented only about one-half of 1 per cent of the total number sailing.

On the western front he said the British expeditionary force "has now finally taken over their allotted sector of the French line and all divisions are in position."

"The understanding between the French and British higher command is complete," Chamberlain said. "The fact that our expeditionary force is under the command of the French commander-in-chief and that unity of command has thus been achieved at so early a stage of the war is one proof of this accord."

"Another is to be found in an agreement by which French troops are serving under the orders of the British commander-in-chief in France."

Publish Losses
Chamberlain declared the government had "not hesitated to publish the full extent of any losses sustained" and expressed conviction that "imaginary" British losses broadcast by Germany would prove false.

It was far more important, he said, that the world should "believe implicitly in the truth of our communications" than that "we should reap the short-lived advantages which distortions of the truths may bring."

"In these foolish days we must not indulge in foolish boasts," he went on. "Attacks so far made upon our coasts have been few and on a small scale and it would be unwise to assume that we shall always be as successful as we have been in these first changes."

"We have at least the satisfaction of knowing that we have made a Turn to page 5 col. 8

Pope Says 'Enemies Of God' are Casting 'Shadow' Over Europe

Castle Gandolfo—(P)—Pope Pius declared today that "the enemies of God" were casting their "sinister shadow" over Europe in a more threatening way every day.

The pope expressed his concern in a public address to the new Lithuanian minister to the Holy See, Stanislas Girdvainis, whose country recently came under the influence of Soviet Russia.

The pope said he would not let his action, "always directed toward the salvation of souls, become involved in purely temporal controversies and territorial competitions between states."

But the duties of his office as "supreme pastor" did not permit him to close his eyes, he said, "when precisely for the salvation of souls arise new, incommensurable dangers—when on the face of Europe, Christian in all its fundamental lineaments, the sinister shadow of thoughts and deeds of enemies of God casts itself closer and more threateningly every day."

French Troops Meet German Drive With Heavy Artillery Fire, Paris Report Asserts

Paris—(P)—Sharp fighting accompanying a German offensive along the northern part of the western front since Monday already has cost the nazis more than 5,000 casualties, French sources estimated today.

The French said their own losses were slight as their troops fell back to previously prepared positions and met the advancing Germans with heavy blasts of artillery fire.

Raiding parties from both sides fought a series of localized engagements during the night, the general staff reported in its morning communique. These actions were described as "ambushes and trench raids."

The general staff also noted "intense movement" of troops and materials by both highway and railway behind the German lines.

Military commentators said the greatest activity during the night centered on a small wooded area southeast of Saarbrücken where the Germans tried to capture.

Near Luxembourg
The fighting has been centered in the region just across the Moselle river from Luxembourg, and in the sector between Saarbrücken and Pirmasens further east.

French reports said their troops had voluntarily abandoned positions on German soil near the Borg forest and Perl, leaving only advance lookouts on Schneeberg heights close to the border.

When the German advance reached that point, they said, these lookouts reported back to artillery units, which already had calculated the range and cut loose at once with their guns.

The German offensive along a 20-mile front east of the Saar river appeared to have been designed to break the French grip on the Turn to page 2 col. 4

Gandhi Disappointed By British Statement

Wardha, India—(P)—Mohandas K. Gandhi described as "profoundly disappointing" today a white paper in which India's viceroy forecast British willingness to discuss dominion status for India after the war.

He said the declaration "shows clearly that there will be no democracy for India if Britain can prevent it."

"It would have been better if the British government had declined to make any declaration whatsoever," said the frail little exponent of non-violence for India's millions.

The white paper was issued yesterday by the viceroy, Lord Linlithgow.

WAGE-HOUR CHIEF

Colonel Philip Fleming (above), a district army engineer stationed at St. Paul, has been named by President Roosevelt to succeed Elmer Andrews who resigned as wage-hour administrator.

Secretary Perkins today named Harold D. Jacobs acting administrator of the wage-hour division. Jacobs, who has been assistant wage-hour administrator in charge of information, will hold his new title, it is understood, until Fleming assumes the full title of wage-hour administrator.

Fleming is an active army officer and because of military regulations it is understood that a special congressional enactment will be necessary to permit his acceptance of the position vacated by Andrews.

Heads of Four Nations Confer At Stockholm

Discuss Problems Facing

NO MILITARY POMP

Roosevelt Says U. S.
Deeply Interested in Conference

Stockholm—(P)—The kings of the three Scandinavian states and the president of Finland opened their conference today on problems which face the northern neutral countries as the result of the European war.

The visiting heads of state, King Haakon of Norway, King Christian of Denmark and President Kyyosti Kallio of Finland, were welcomed in brief ceremonies devoid of military display in harmony with the peace policy long associated with the Scandinavian nations.

King Gustaf, Sweden's venerable monarch, at whose instance the conference was called, presided at the meeting, which was attended by the foreign ministers of the four states.

The 61-year-old Swedish king himself and members of his cabinet were at Bromma airport to meet President Kallio and the Finnish Foreign Minister Eljas Erko.

There were so few military uniforms at the airport, they could be counted—five officers among the welcoming group, and two steel-helmeted soldiers.

Meet Royal Visitors
The same emphasis on the non-military character of the Stockholm conference was evident at the railroad station when the train carrying King Haakon and King Christian arrived a short time later.

King Gustaf, who had taken President Kallio to the royal castle, returned to meet his royal visitors and embraced them as they stepped from the train.

The formal opening session of the conference was held in a reception hall at the government's expense. After a half-hour's discussion, the foreign ministers adjourned to the foreign office to continue deliberations.

How to preserve the neutrality of their nations while maintaining normal trade relations was the question facing the monarchs of Sweden, Norway and Denmark—just as it was during the World War.

To that problem was added the situation of Finland, which existed during the first part of the World War only as a grand duchy of the Turn to page 2 col. 1

Report of Russian Gold Shipments Is Discussed at London

London—(P)—A British government spokesman today gave official support to reports that Russia had been sending gold to Germany.

Sir Alfred Knox, conservative, asked in the house of commons whether the government's attention had been drawn "to the fact that a consignment of 17½ tons of gold, had been transferred by the Soviet government to Germany."

Foreign Affairs Undersecretary R. A. Butler replied:

"Yes, sir, the foreign secretary has reason to believe that this report is not without foundation."

The British press has printed repeated reports that Germany was receiving Russian gold under a deal by which she ordered withdrawal of Germans from the Baltic sea.

Wiley Asks Nation to Tighten Belt For Peace

Washington—(P)—A suggestion that the United States side-step any proposals for this country to act as a referee in the European battle was made last night by Senator Wiley (R-Wis.).

"Let us not be jockeyed into a position that will make us co-signers on a demand note to guarantee a patched-up European truce," he said in a radio speech.

Calling for a "mobilization for peace" in the United States, Wiley said he wanted all America "fiercely determined" that whatever action is taken by congress on the proposal for repeal of the arms embargo, this nation will "still be at peace."

Wiley, uncommitted on retention or repeal of the arms embargo, called upon the nation to tighten its belt for peace while Europe tightened its belt for war.

Argentina Assailed
By Livestock Group
Washington—(P)—Argentina has tried to balk the United States at every Pan-American conference, the American Livestock association said today, and should not be rewarded with a market in this country for its agricultural products.

The association filed a brief with the committee for reciprocity information, opposing any tariff concessions on beef and beef products in a proposed reciprocal trade pact with Argentina. The South American republic, said the association, was the "fly in the ointment" at all Pan American parleys.

"In view of this fact, clearly borne out in press dispatches from all the recent conferences, it would seem strange that she should now be awarded with access to our markets, ostensibly in furtherance of the good neighbor policy," the brief said.

"If we can achieve a good neighbor status only in this fashion, we are better off without it. . . .

BILLINGS LEAVES FOLSOM PRISON

Warren Billings is shown here packing his few belongings as he prepared to leave the Folsom, Calif., prison after serving 23 years. Billings was convicted of participation in the 1916 Preparedness day bombing in San Francisco and was sentenced to life. Governor Culbert Olson, who had earlier pardoned Tom Mooney, commuted the sentence to time served.

Billings, Liberated From Prison After 23 Years, Plans to Wed San Francisco

San Francisco—(P)—Warren K. Billings awoke today in a room instead of a cell for the first time in 23 years, to face the exciting prospect of planning, at 45, a new life with the woman he expects to marry.

He met her last night for the first time outside of prison custody, after hurrying here from Sacramento as soon as Governor Culbert L. Olson's order commuting his life sentence to time served resulted in release from Folsom prison.

He had not tasted freedom since his arrest in July, 1916, after he and Tom Mooney were accused of participation in the San Francisco Preparedness day bombing. Both were convicted for murder. Ten persons were killed in the bombing.

Governor Olson pardoned Mooney early this year.

Billings' bride-to-be is Miss Josephine Rudolph, 36, former librarian in San Mateo and more recently a time-keeper on a WPA house-keeping project.

Fond du Lac Man Denied New Trial

Colorado Supreme Court in Slaying Case

Fort Morgan, Colo.—(P)—District Judge Arlington Taylor denied today a second new trial motion for Ellsworth E. Medberry, Wisconsin henchman, sentenced to life imprisonment for slaying a soap salesman.

The motion was based on Medberry's claim that John T. Gray, Colorado Springs salesman, was shot and killed when Medberry resisted improper advances which he attributed to Gray.

Samuel Chutkow and T. E. Munson, trial attorneys for the 22-year-old Fond du Lac, Wis., defendant, offered no evidence of this nature in the trial at which Medberry was convicted of first degree murder last June 24 at Akron.

Attorney John E. O'Brien of Fond du Lac offered an affidavit by Medberry asserting that the 32-year-old Gray several times made improper proposals to him after Gray had picked him up on a highway outside Sedgwick in northeastern Colorado, last March 10.

In his ruling Judge Taylor complained Chutkow for rejecting the testimony because he questioned its veracity and feared it would "boomerang."

O'Brien indicated he would continue an attempt to be appointed Medberry's counsel in order to appeal to the state supreme court.

Argentina Assailed By Livestock Group

Washington—(P)—Argentina has tried to balk the United States at every Pan-American conference, the American Livestock association said today, and should not be rewarded with a market in this country for its agricultural products.

The association filed a brief with the committee for reciprocity information, opposing any tariff concessions on beef and beef products in a proposed reciprocal trade pact with Argentina. The South American republic, said the association, was the "fly in the ointment" at all Pan American parleys.

"In view of this fact, clearly borne out in press dispatches from all the recent conferences, it would seem strange that she should now be awarded with access to our markets, ostensibly in furtherance of the good neighbor policy," the brief said.

"If we can achieve a good neighbor status only in this fashion, we are better off without it. . . .

Russia, Turkey Fail to Agree On Pact Terms

Shipping Clauses Are Given Backing

Democratic Group Reports Agreement in Principle on Revision

Washington—(P)—A group of Democrats on the senate foreign relations committee agreed in principle today on a plan to relax controversial shipping provisions of the administration's neutrality bill.

The proposal, offered by Senator Connally (D-Texas), would authorize American vessels to carry all goods except arms to belligerent ports in South America, the Pacific ocean, the China sea, the Indian ocean, the bay of Bengal and the Arabian sea.

Connally told reporters that a final agreement had not been reached. A group of Democrats would work on details at an afternoon session, he said.

Would Speed Vote
Relaxation of the shipping provisions was expected to lessen opposition to the neutrality bill and hasten a final vote. Previously, administration leaders agreed to strike out a provision permitting belligerent countries to obtain 90-day credits on purchases in this country.

Attending today's meeting were those senators who drafted the neutrality measure a month ago.

On the senate floor, Senator Holt (D-W. Va.), a vigorous administration critic, opened debate with a charge that the Roosevelt administration "never had been neutral, never will be, and never intended to be."

The youthful West Virginian charged that the entire state department policy for several years had been patterned to fit British demands. He read from published books by President Roosevelt, and by Raymond Moley, former assistant secretary of state.

"Those works, Holt charged, demonstrated that the administration's policy was un-neutral."

As the neutrality bill was drawn, American ships would be prohibited under severe penalty from carrying cargo or passengers to warring nations and their colonies in every section of the world.

At Least 5 Dead In Plant Blast

Pennsylvania

Eldred, Pa.—(P)—An explosion today shattered the explosive mixing plant of the National Powder company near here, killing at least five men.

Forty-five men were employed in buildings clustered about the gelatin pack plant where nitroglycerine is made, but a preliminary survey disclosed that no others had been injured.

All communication with the plant was cut off by lines of guards after the blast, but Justice of the Peace Jack Loftus said he understood the five victims had been working in the mixing plant, a stone structure.

The plant, located on the outskirts of this community of 1,000 persons, is one of the largest of its kind in northwestern Pennsylvania and probably the only one manufacturing both dynamite and nitroglycerine.

The blast ripped through the plant at 8:55 a. m., shattering scores of buildings in Eldred. There was no report of serious damage here.

The company identified the dead as Merle Eldridge, 19-year-old son of the publisher of Eldred's weekly newspaper, the Eagle; John T. Devling, 25; Clair Wise, Cyril Lewis and Leo Davis. All were residents of Eldred except Davis, a resident of Portville, N. Y., and Lewis, who lived in Emporium, Pa.

Declares He Was Beaten By 2 Missouri Officers

Benton, Ill.—(P)—George W. Gore, Jr., defendant on a charge of murder, asserted today two Missouri state highway patrolmen beat him at the Cape Girardeau, Mo., city jail July 30 to obtain a purported confession in the slaying of his step-mother.

His testimony was part of the defense evidence to show that the alleged confession was made involuntarily and, therefore, was not admissible against him in his trial in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Nancy Gore at her Benton home July 23.

The jury was excluded while the testimony was heard by Circuit Judge W. Joe Hill, who was expected to rule this afternoon whether the court would accept the purported oral confession as evidence in the trial.

Four Illinois officers and two Cape Girardeau policemen testified last night that Gore was not mistreated, or threatened, in their presence.

Shotgun Charge Hits Bear Creek Hunter

Peter Erickson, about 29, Bear Creek, was accidentally shot by a hunting companion about 1 o'clock this afternoon in the woods several miles southeast of Bear Creek. He was hit in the chest and left arm by a charge from a shotgun held by Robert Nordor, about 18, Bear Creek, it was reported.

Erickson ran to his car and drove to his home before being taken to the New London Community hospital in an ambulance. His condition was reported as fair.

Wise Old Owl— It's the Bunk!

"The Owl is a fool," declared Colonel H. P. Shien of the biological survey in Washington. "The owl is simply like a lot of people; he doesn't say much because he doesn't know much to say." He also explained that the bird is "too dumb to see in broad daylight." Shucks, there's another of our fond illusions debunked. But here's a little Post-Crescent Want Ad which wisely didn't say too much; nevertheless it achieved brilliant results, no fooling or bunk:

Only One Man Saw German Submarine Enter Or Leave Scapa Flow, Commander Declares

BY LOUIS F. LOCHNER
Berlin—(P)—A blond, 31-year-old submarine commander, Guenther Prien, declared today that "except for a lone auto driver, nobody saw our U-boat enter or leave Scapa Flow" in the raid which sank the British battleship Royal Oak Saturday and cost 810 lives.

Commander Prien, talked with foreign newspaper men after he had been decorated by Adolf Hitler and had received the plaudits of cheering Berlin crowds on the way to the chancellery with his submarine crew.

In strident tones Prien asserted he had entered Scapa Flow, Britain's naval base in the Orkney Islands off northern Scotland, on a night when the northern lights were the strongest he had seen in 15 years at sea.

"The British ships could not be seen distinctly but we could determine the location by dimmed lanterns at the anchoring buoys," he said.

Prien reiterated the German claim that his submarine badly damaged Britain's 32,000-ton battle cruiser Repulse at the same time as it sank the Royal Oak.

"The Repulse was easy to make out because it and the Renown (her sister ship) alone have two funnels," Prien said.

"The Repulse was partly covered by the Royal Oak. Nevertheless her two aftershield gun towers protruded. (Silhouettes in Jane's Fighting Ships show the Repulse has two funnels and also two fore gun turrets)."

"So I first aimed in their direction, then sent a second torpedo into the very heart of the Royal Oak. I saw distinctly how water first spouted high before the Repulse and then was followed by high red flames."

"On the Royal Oak, water and fire rose even higher, both hits being followed by detonations and by parts of the costly ships hurtling into the air."

"The whole thing was over in 30 seconds. After that only a dark cloud of smoke was visible. The Royal Oak had disappeared, while the Repulse listed heavily forward."

"Immediately thereafter the British got busy with searchlights and their destroyers loosed water bombs."

"Only one man in a car apparently had seen us. He turned abruptly and drove off at full speed and evidently reported us. We could see him so well because we navigated quite close to the shore."

Marshall's Wedding Led to War, British White Paper Hints

London—(P)—A government white paper hinted today that the marriage of Germany's then war minister, Marshal Werner von Blomberg, to his stenographer on Jan. 12, 1938, started a chain of events which precipitated the present war.

Sir Neville Henderson, in another account of his ambassadorship in Berlin, told the British foreign secretary, Lord Halifax:

"In my report on the events of 1938, I drew your lordship's attention to the far-reaching and unfortunate results of the Blomberg marriage."

"I am more than ever convinced of the major disaster which that—in itself—minor incident involved, owing to the consequent elimination from Herr Hitler's entourage of the more moderate of his advisers, such as Field Marshal von Blomberg himself, Baron von Neurath, Generals Fritsch, Beck and others."

(Colonel General Werner von Fritsch, then commander-in-chief of the rechwahr, was said to have acted as the spokesman for the officers' corps in protesting to Hitler that the marriage was socially "impossible.")

(The result was that Hitler assumed personal command of the armed forces and ousted Von Blomberg, Von Fritsch and 19 other high-ranking officers in a general shake-up of the socially-conscious corps.)

Emergency Board Withholds Fund From University

Also Rejects $13,337 of State Departmental Pay Roll Requests

Madison—(P)—The state emergency board has withheld a special appropriation of $150,000 for the University of Wisconsin and rejected $13,337.50 of state departmental pay roll requests, including salary increases for employees.

The action was taken at a meeting yesterday in which the board pointed to the "critical condition" of the general fund. At the same time it authorized payment of the following sums: $7,330 to meet the full allotment to counties for September aid to dependent children; $483.23 to the legislative reference library for special bill drafting expenses, and $4,500 to Governor Heil's office for administration purposes.

The board said this allotment would replace monies heretofore added to regular executive office appropriations from a special fund for federal relief projects. The latter fund has been discontinued.

Withholding of the university's supplementary $150,000 allotment was described as temporary because of the present condition of the general fund. The university's budget had been cut $1,000,000 and the legislature had authorized the extra appropriation, subject to emergency board approval.

Request Refused
Among the pay roll requests denied was $9,450 asked by Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman to meet salaries of a number of employees in his office. The board said it was informed the salaries formerly were charged to the motor vehicle division, while it was part of Zimmerman's office, and since a new independent motor vehicle department had been established by the legislature Zimmerman should pay the salaries out of his regular administrative appropriations.

Requests from six departments for employee pay increases totaling $2,867.50 a month were refused. Under Chapter 469 of the laws of 1939 which invalidated all automatic salary boosts granted by department heads last July and gave the board discretionary authority hereafter. Requests rejected were: Bureau of engineering, $1,350; free library commission, $345; secretary of state, $387.50; public welfare department, $465; state investment board, $225; soil conservation commission, $225.

MAY CLOSE DEPARTMENT
Madison—(P)—Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman notified the state emergency board today he might find it necessary to close his department if the board continued to reduce requests for additional appropriations.

Zimmerman addressed his letter to Senator Otto Mueller, Wausau, chairman of the board, and sent copies to the other two members, Governor Heil and Assemblyman P. Bradley McIntyre, Lancaster.

Zimmerman declared he sought to reduce operating costs to a minimum, that several employees had been dismissed and others would have to go.

Conference Opens At Stockholm on Neutrality Issues

Russian empire and which now is engaged in negotiations with soviet Russia, which Finns fear may threaten their independence.

Some sections of the public foresee a possibility that the conference would issue a general appeal for European peace.

LAUDS CONFERENCE
Washington—(P)—President Roosevelt advised King Gustaf V of Sweden today that "this government joins with the governments of the other American republics in expressing its support of the principles of neutrality and order under law for which the nations represented at the Stockholm conference have, throughout their history, taken a consistent stand."

The chief executive told the king of Sweden that the conference, called when tension between soviet Russia and Finland seemed capable of leading to war, "will be followed with deep interest by the government and people of the United States."

Similar messages were sent by the government of the 20 other American republics. The action was regarded as one of the first fruits of the recent Panama conference at which the American republics pledged themselves to adopt a common neutrality position.

Electricians to Meet at Conway

Inspectors Association to Open Annual Convention Thursday

Registration for the fourteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Chapter of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors will begin at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the Conway Hotel.

More than 75 inspectors from all parts of the state are expected at the meeting which will be featured by a study and discussion of the new Wisconsin electrical code Friday morning.

Ross Williams, vice president of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, will talk on the subject, "Looking Into the Future," Friday afternoon. An address by Assemblyman Mark S. Catlin, Jr., has been cancelled.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., will preside Thursday morning. Reports of the various convention committees will be heard at the session. A dinner to which Appleton city officials have been invited will be held Thursday evening.

A talk by John E. Wise, Madison, is scheduled Saturday morning. Reports of the resolution and nominating committee will be heard and officers will be elected.

Charles Pardee Estate Is Listed at $30,000

Petition for probate of the will of Charles Pardee, Appleton resident who died recently, has been made in county court of Judge Fred V. Heinemann. The petition lists about $20,000 in personal property and $10,000 in real estate. Under terms of the will the widow will receive $20,000 and Minnie Luckow, housekeeper, $2,000. A fourth of the remaining estate will be divided among grandchildren, and the residue among the deceased's children or their heirs. Surviving children are Grace Pardee, Heinemann, and Charles Arthur Pardee, Jr.

Virginia Schrimpf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schrimpf, 212 E. McKinley street, underwent an operation for appendicitis Saturday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

marked his second attempt in a week to aid in preserving peace between Russia and Finland. His first was a message to President Kalinin of Russia, to which he received a reply yesterday.

Roosevelt Message
The text of Mr. Roosevelt's cable to the king of Sweden follows: "The confederacy of the Nordic states conveyed by your majesty in Stockholm will be followed with deep interest by the government and people of the United States."

"Under the circumstances which exist, this government joins with the governments of the other American republics in expressing its support of the principles of neutrality and order under law for which the nations represented at the Stockholm conference have, throughout their history, taken a consistent stand."

The statement replying to a message from Mr. Roosevelt last week, was made public by the White House late yesterday. Mr. Roosevelt had expressed hope that the Soviet union "would make no demands on Finland which are inconsistent with the maintenance and development of amicable and peaceful relations between the two countries and the independence of each."

Although officials withheld comment on Kalinin's reply, some well informed sources said that Mr. Roosevelt probably would take no further action pending the outcome of the Russian-Finnish negotiations.

Youngsters have started to prepare their costumes for the event in which more than 200 children participated last year. A crowd jammed the square for more than two hours last year to watch the fun.

Lawrence Mackin, WPA recreational leader, will be in charge of the event and will be assisted by other county recreational leaders.

GERMAN PLANES DROP BOMBS ON BRITISH WARSHIP

German warplanes, striking at the Scapa Flow base of the British navy, hit and damaged the training ship Iron Duke (above), a veteran of the World War. The British said there were no casualties.

Government Will Take Bids on Dam Across Fox River

Bids on a dam to replace the upper dam across the Fox river just west of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company will be taken by the federal government Nov. 21, according to Edwin W. Nelson, government engineer.

Work on the project is not expected to start until next spring, Nelson said. The old dam, 692 feet over all, was built in 1874. Its construction is mainly of stone masonry. The new dam will be built of concrete and steel throughout. It is believed the project will involve expenditure of about $300,000.

Stephenson in New Maneuver

Former Indiana Klan Head Continues His Fight for Freedom

Noblesville, Ind.—(P)—Once-pow-erful D. C. Stephenson, denied a new trial in his "liberty or death" fight, pinned hope of freedom to-day from a life sentence on a habeas corpus proceeding.

The ex-grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan is serving life in Michigan City state prison on a murder conviction in the poison-death of Madge Oberholzer, 29, state employe, in 1925.

Hamilton Circuit Judge Cassius M. Gentry yesterday overruled Stephenson's demand that he be given an early trial for first-degree murder in perpetration of a felony—with acquittal and execution the alternatives.

Two hours later, the 48-year-old prisoner's lawyers petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus, ordering Sheriff Joseph Newby to surrender their client, in jail here. Issuance of such a writ, they said, would mean liberty or a new trial.

Thus they had two pleadings on file in the latest chapter of Stephenson's 14-year-old campaign for vindication.

Also before the court was a petition for a writ of error coram nobis, a step toward a new trial. But Judge Gentry said he could not hear it until next spring.

In the trial drama, Stephenson's attorneys argued the jury verdict was void because he was convicted of second-degree murder on a first-degree murder count.

Judge Gentry said a second-degree murder charge was contained in the count in question and that to uphold the plea he would have to reverse the Indiana supreme court.

An appeal to the high court early in Stephenson's prison career resulted in affirmation of his conviction.

The jury which convicted the deposed Klan head Nov. 14, 1925, heard testimony that he criminally assaulted Miss Oberholzer and then denied her medical aid after she took poison.

Hollywood Notables Attend Sterling Rites

Hollywood—(P)—Filmland's notables attended funeral services yesterday for actor Ford Sterling. The "chief" of the Keystone cops, film comic group of years ago, died last Friday.

Those at the mortuary chapel included Charles Chaplin, Mack Sennett, the producer who gave Sterling his start, Harold Lloyd, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Eugene Pallette, Wesley Ruggles, Heinie Conklin, Al St. Clair, Marshall Neilan, Hank Mann, Jed Prouty, Raymond Griffith and Tom Moore.

Extension Course in Printing Is Offered
A trade extension class in printing, limited to men engaged in the trade, is being offered in the trade and industrial division of the Appleton Vocational school.

John Geiger, Menasha, is the instructor for the class which meets Thursday nights, this week's meeting being the second. There is room for several more students in the class.

Benedum Manager Of School Store

Stop and Shop Selected as Name for Wilson School Project

Donald Benedum has been named general manager of the Stop and Shop, Wilson Junior High school supply store organized and operated by students each year. The name this year was suggested by Clarence Brockman.

Lorraine Ullman is purchasing agent; Nathalie Trauba, finance manager; Ralph DeDecker, advertising manager; and Elaine Bartz, inventory clerk; and June Clocksin, assisting assistant advertising manager.

Six pupils representing the various home rooms comprise the board of directors. Betty Lou Tautzin, George Ney, Joyce Flynn, Maurice Griesbach, Keith McCluskey, and Ethel Kuehnel. Miss Kuehnel is president of the board, Miss Flynn secretary and Miss Tautzin is treasurer.

Ruth Robertson designed the stock certificate used this year. Stock in the store was sold to the various pupils at 10 cents per share. About 40 pupils have been selected to serve as clerks in the store.

Teachers who helped to organize the project are Alma Bohlmann, Carl Enger, Julia Klapper and Edward Radtke.

Motorist Fined $10 On Speeding Charge

Frank Heimann, route 1, Appleton, pleaded guilty of speeding and was fined $10 and costs by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court yesterday afternoon. Heimann was arrested by city police on N. Badger avenue.

rich Saarland industrial region, vital to Nazi war industries.

There was no official statement as to whether the French still claimed to dominate the Saar valley. Semi-official reports, however, which said the French still were fighting on German soil in this area, indicated they had not greatly relaxed their grip.

Suicidal German Soil
The exact line of the new French positions, which were established some time ago in expectation Germany would launch an offensive after mopping up in Poland was not disclosed.

Reports of French advances in the early weeks of the war indicated they had penetrated so far as seven miles into German territory, cleaning out scattered Nazi pill-boxes and minefields. Before retreating, it was said, they laid out mines of their own to impede German operations.

Behind their new line of defense, the French have drawn up heavy tanks in large numbers.

Observers expected that the French, having withdrawn to apparently strong positions, would content themselves with waging a defensive campaign attempting to inflict as many losses as possible upon the Germans while keeping the war off French soil.

Winter weather was expected within a few weeks to thwart any German offensive ambitions on the western front, while the naval blockade was relied upon to undermine German morale during the months of enforced inactivity ahead.

Knitting Mills Face Woolen Prices That Are Up 45 Per Cent

Knitting mills in Appleton must pay about 45 per cent more for their wool right now than before the outbreak of the European war.

Dewey Zwicker, president of Zwicker Knitting Mills, said today that the increase affects all types of wool purchased by the mills and that angora has gone up from $1 to $2 a pound.

Withdrawal by England of wool exports from Australia to other countries was cited by Zwicker as being the most influential reason for the increase in price. The boost has been noticeable in the last two months.

The surplus stocks of angora provided most knitters with enough for the present season, Zwicker said, but should the European war and the angora fashion in sweaters, gloves and other accessories continue, a shortage probably would occur. Most of the angora used by the Zwicker mill and other similar firms comes from France, the domestic business being too small to supply the volume of present needs.

Baraboo—(P)—Dist. Atty. John Rouse announced last night he was satisfied a body recovered Sept. 9 from the Wisconsin river near Sauk City was that of Frank Timlin, of Oshkosh.

K. Froehling, manager of an Oshkosh hotel where Timlin lived 13 years prior to his disappearance Sept. 2, arrived here late yesterday and made the identification through Timlin's clothes and other personal items, Rouse said.

Officials were informed Timlin formerly was engaged in the lumber business at Wausau.

Sophomores Will Receive Health Tests at School

Medical Society to Cooperate in Examinations Starting Monday

Beginning Monday morning sophomores of Appleton High school will be given health examinations which will include check-ups on the condition of hearts, lungs, postures, throats, glands, possible hernias and skin and nervous disorders. The examinations are being conducted in cooperation with the Appleton Medical society, according to Miss Mary Orblison, school nurse. The examinations are not intended to take the place of those of a regular physician but are merely expected to reveal gross defects.

After the health examinations are completed, seniors at the high school will be given skin tuberculin tests to discover whether or not they have been exposed to tuberculosis at any time. Those who react positively to the test will be encouraged to go to their family physicians for x-rays. A positive reaction does not necessarily mean active tuberculosis, Miss Orblison pointed out.

A dental clinic later in the school year will follow.

The health examinations are part, not only of a complete health program at the high school, but also throughout the entire public school system of Appleton, Miss Orblison stated. It is planned at present that cumulative health records be kept for every child enrolled in the Appleton school from the time he enters kindergarten. In the grades he will be vaccinated against small pox and receive the toxin anti-toxin to prevent diphtheria. The first complete health examination will be given when he enters junior high school. In the tenth grade he will be re-examined, and high school seniors will be given the skin test before they are graduated. Eye tests are administered throughout the grades.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the sophomore examinations at the high school, include Dr. Guy Carlson, Dr. W. O. Dehne, Dr. J. C. Troxell, Miss Orblison, Misses Eileen Hammerberg and Carol Anderson, girls' physical education instructors at the high school and William C. Pickett and Lawrence Witzke, boys' physical education instructors. Four physicians sent out each day by the Appleton Medical Society will be on duty each morning. Assisting them in the recording will be Miss Orblison, Miss Lina Johnson, school nurses, Mrs. Josephine Versteeg, city nurse, and Miss Jane Barclay, registered nurse.

Keep Out of War Is Sentiment in Nation—Lawrence

Congress in Special Session Long Enough to Know It, Writer Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Congress has been here long enough now in special session to have a pretty clear idea of the sentiment of the nation about possible participation in the European war. That sentiment is unanimous against entry into the war.

The reasons why each group is against America's becoming a belligerent are different and often opposite, but the result is the same. Thus, the position of various groups in the nation, as reflected in letters, telegrams, conversations and communications from organizations and their spokesmen, would seem to be as follows:

1. Labor: Opposition to war arises out of a fear that the Wagner Labor act would be suspended and that hours would be lengthened without any corresponding increase in wages. Standards built up after years of struggle would be temporarily set aside, with the danger that they might not be soon, if even replaced.

2. Business men: opposition to war comes strongly from a fear that if war is declared, prices will be fixed, profits limited, and such a regimented control exercised over the system of "free enterprise," as it is now known, that the dictatorship which business men have been apprehensive about as arising out of "left wing" tactics would be realized. Also a deep-seated belief exists among business men that America's entry into the war would inevitably mean a third term for President Roosevelt, and the prospect of this horrifies the anti-New Dealers, of whom not a few are business men, to such an extent that sometimes they do not know which of the two contingencies makes them shudder most.

3. Farm organizations: American participation in the war would be regarded as a calamity by those who remember how government fixing of prices worked hardships in the last war and how the farmer suffered because of the 1-sided nature of the price fixing. Although the farmer was assured that the prices of the things he was buying would be regulated also, it turned out that the government did no such comprehensive job of price-fixing and the limitations almost entirely were on the prices at which the farmer's produce could be sold.

4. Foreign-born groups: many of them have friends and relatives involved in the present war and have no desire to see America participate in an overseas combat of any kind.

5. Munition-makers: they can make more money out of neutrality than out of America's position as a belligerent. This is because, the moment America entered the war, profits would be fixed as selling prices, whereas, in a period of peace there is virtually no limitation. The same is true of airplane manufacturers and the hundred and one by-product industries of the war munitions business, from steel to lumber.

6. Financial influences: these are almost all opposed to war, not only because of the high taxation to be encountered, but because America's public debt has already been doubled since 1933, and any greater strain on national credit would be interpreted as meaning an inflation or, to put it another way, a further devaluation of the purchasing power, if not the gold content of the dollar.

G. O. P. Politicians

7. The Republican party politicians: a distinct opposition to war has developed because it makes impossible a Republican victory in 1940.

8. The Democratic party politicians: American entry into the war is opposed because an entirely new set of executives would be introduced and many changes would be forced by public sentiment with respect to key positions in the government. Liberal reforms would be sidetracked and the conservative "right wing" philosophy, bordering on fascism itself, might be compelled as a means of effective operation of the economic machine.

All the WPA and PWA projects would be wiped out overnight and even the CCC would doubtless be militarized. The Democratic political leaders therefore would much prefer a maintenance of neutrality and peace and the slogan that "Mr. Roosevelt has kept us out of war."

Taken all together, it is difficult to find any responsible group that wants war and congress knows it. Every day, however, there is talk about America being "dragged in," though nobody explains how, with so many elements in opposition, the dragging is going to be so easy.

Two Traffic Crashes In Shiocton Vicinity

Shiocton — Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Colson were involved in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon while driving on County Trunk M. northwest of the village. Mrs. Colson, who was driving at the time, lost control of the car when it struck loose gravel. The car swerved from the road struck a bank, turning completely over and rolled on its side. The car was badly wrecked. Mr. and Mrs. Colson escaped without injury.

A coupe driven by Harold Schoenring, route 2, Shiocton, and a truck loaded with coal going through from Green Bay collided at the intersection of Highways 76 and 54 in the village Monday evening. No one was injured. In the coupe with Harold was his father, Julius Schoenring, Sr. Damage to the coupe was a broken windshield, bent fender and one door jammed. The bent damage to the truck was a bent fender.

'BEAU GESTE' OPENING FRIDAY

A glorious, stirring story of a trio of gallant brothers whose loyalty and devotion to each other leads them to high adventure in the French Foreign Legion is brought to the screen in "Beau Geste," vivid new picture of the famous P. C. Wren novel, which will open at the Rio theater Friday. Co-starring Gary Cooper and Ray Milland, the big supporting cast includes Robert Preston, Brian Donlevy, Susan Hayward, J. Carroll Nash, and Donald O'Connor.

The added feature is a carnival of music, fun and romance, starring Irene Dale, Edgar Kennedy, and Eric Linden in "Everything's on Ice."

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

The Double Standard of Morality

Mr. Hoover's specific proposal is that the government "prohibit the sale to anybody at any time, whether neutrals or combatants, of those weapons of attack on civilians, that is: bombing planes, their ammunition, poison gas and submarines." There is, he says, "a moral question here that reaches to the heart of the American instinct for decency" and he protests against those who "will split hairs on this differentiation between arms."

Mr. Hoover has long since earned the right to have considered thoroughly and sincerely any proposal he makes, and particularly any proposal which he feels is bound up with decency and humanity and morality in international affairs. For no man now alive, and perhaps no other man in history, has saved more human beings from death, disease, and despair. Certainly no other man of our generation has done so much for so many of his fellow men when they most needed to be helped; none has done so much with such a noble disregard of whether the people he was serving were victors or vanquished, friends or foes, neutrals or allies. The record of Herbert Hoover in Belgium, in Germany, in Poland, in what was Austria-Hungary, and in Russia, is as proud a chapter in our history as any to which Americans can point, and no one who knows that record will feel that a proposal of the sort that Mr. Hoover now makes can be dismissed without facing the fundamental moral question which he has raised.

4. Foreign-born groups: many of them have friends and relatives involved in the present war and have no desire to see America participate in an overseas combat of any kind.

5. Munition-makers: they can make more money out of neutrality than out of America's position as a belligerent. This is because, the moment America entered the war, profits would be fixed as selling prices, whereas, in a period of peace there is virtually no limitation. The same is true of airplane manufacturers and the hundred and one by-product industries of the war munitions business, from steel to lumber.

6. Financial influences: these are almost all opposed to war, not only because of the high taxation to be encountered, but because America's public debt has already been doubled since 1933, and any greater strain on national credit would be interpreted as meaning an inflation or, to put it another way, a further devaluation of the purchasing power, if not the gold content of the dollar.

About Sixty in School Operetta

'The Sunbonnet Girl' to Be Presented Friday Evening at Shiocton

Shiocton — The all-school operetta, "The Sunbonnet Girl," to be presented at the high school gymnasium Friday evening, will include about sixty students. It is being directed by Miss Mary Agnes Hurd and Miss Dorothy Grehn, English and commercial instructors, respectively.

Basketball season will begin at Shiocton High school this week. Members returning from last year's squad are Gordon Mantz, Marilyn Schwandt, Harold Conrad and David Brooker.

Some of the boys who played considerable basketball on the "B" squad last year probably will play on the first team this year. Leonard Larson is coach.

Mrs. Edgar Peep, who spent the last week with relatives at De Pere, returned home Saturday. Accompanied by other relatives, she attended the funeral services of an aunt, Mrs. Sarah Paeske, 85, of Escanaba, Mich., which were held Friday at Two Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Feuerpeil and daughter Nancy spent Sunday at Mattoon, where they attended a family gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Booth entertained a few guests at a dinner Sunday in honor of their son Harold's birthday anniversary. Those present were Earl Feustel and Eddie Anderson, Green Bay; Verr Booth and son Rex and Frank McLaughlin of Rhinelander.

Miss Bernice White of Black Creek resumed her duties as teacher of the fifth and sixth grades of the Shiocton State Graded school Monday, following a few days' absence due to the serious illness of her mother. Mrs. Wilford Spoepr substituted during her absence.

Guests entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Sr. Sunday for dinner and supper included Mrs. Clara Wassman and Fred Zuehlke, Appleton, Wis. and Mrs. Martin Beyer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schroeder and family of Neenah, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beyer and family of Shiocton. Mrs. Wassman, sister of Mr. Schroeder, and Fred Zuehlke, brother of Mrs. Schroeder, remained for a week.

Kaukauna Home Sold To Dr. George Boyd

Dr. George L. Boyd, Kaukauna, has purchased a home on W. Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna, from Mrs. Evangeline E. Farwell. William L. Ruwoldt has purchased a home on W. Atlantic street from Martin Kuba. The real estate transfers have been filed with Stephen Peeters, Outagamie county register of deeds. The following transfers also have been filed:

Joseph Cavanaugh to Edward F. Mielke, a parcel of land in the old Third ward, Appleton.

Combined Locks Paper company to Nic Gostos, two lots in the village of Combined Locks.

Carl M. Zschaechner to Carl F. Zschaechner, part of a lot in the old Third ward, Appleton.

Nick Court to Alex McEwen, two lots in the town of Grand Chute.

of the government that uses the weapons.

This is a total fallacy, technically, morally, humanly. No weapon, no matter what its character which is possessed, let us say, by Finland, Sweden, the Netherlands or Switzerland, is an offensive weapon. Why? Because the governments of these countries are beyond all question inoffensive in their policies. On the other hand, if the Netherlands or Switzerland were attacked by Germany, or Finland by Russia, every weapon possessed by Germany and Russia, including the shoes worn by their soldiers and the bread the invaders eat while they march, would be in the sight of God and of man offensive instruments of war.

The reason why the congress can with a good conscience appropriate money for the manufacture of these so-called offensive weapons, the reason Colonel Lindbergh can continue to do his duty as a reserve officer without feeling that he is participating in a foul business like the opium traffic, is that the American people can honestly believe that their purposes are in truth defensive and their national policy is in truth inoffensive. And so, unless we are going to set ourselves up to be the censors and judges of the rest of the world, saying that our meat is their poison, we had better not try to make moral distinction as against others that we do not make for ourselves.

Council Votes to Take Bids on City Garbage Disposal

Works Board Recommends Action to Obtain Estimates of Cost

Kaukauna — The common council, upon recommendation of the board of public works, voted last night to advertise for bids for the collection of garbage within the city limits. Bids are to be opened by the board of public works at its meeting Nov. 6.

Edward Steidl, chairman of the board, emphasized that advertising for bids did not necessarily mean that a contract would be let, the idea is to get an estimate of the cost to see if it can be worked into next year's budget, to be set next year's budget, to be set next month.

Steidl read an ordinance which will govern collection methods. Residents are to provide one or more metal cans, not exceeding a 10-gallon capacity, and place them so they are readily accessible to the collector. No cans, glass, metal or other such refuse will be taken. Collections are to be made twice a week in residential districts and three times a week in business districts from May to November, and once a week in residential districts and twice a week in business districts from November to May.

Bids would be for a two year period, starting March 1, 1940. It is the duty of the health officer to enforce the provisions of the ordinance, with a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50, or not more than 30 days in the county jail, penalties for violation.

Wants Ditch Opened
Steidl reported that the board had inspected Harrison street, where a petition had asked for a catch basin and recommended that a natural drainage ditch, now clogged, be opened to relieve conditions. It was brought out that property holders might not be willing to do the work, in which case the city could do nothing, Harry F. McAndrews, city attorney, said, as it was not a public question.

The board recommended that a grade for a walk into Riverside park, at the west entrance on River street, be made. The more natural grade had been made it a more feasible one than the previous considered east side walk, Steidl said. The board also asked that roadways in Riverside and LaFollette park be improved.

It was voted, pending approval of the U. S. government to build a dry wall on the south side of the government canal east of the Wisconsin avenue bridge.

The utility department was asked to move the Wisconsin avenue bridge over the house west across the road. The intersection of Wisconsin avenue and Patten road will thus be widened, with the dry wall part of this project. The board reported that cement contracts for the Patten road job had been awarded to Benotch Fuel and Supply company, with sand contracts let to A. Mankosky company.

Alderman T. L. Seggelink read a letter from the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, relative to the new fire and police pension legislation recently passed, and said the measure would result in local firemen contributing $296 more each year. The police force is not affected. Seggelink said the ordinance and finance committees would meet next week to discuss bringing the Kaukauna police department into conformance with the state statutes. Seggelink said the league's pension committee was responsible for the new act, and that it was a wonderful job for the state. He is a member of the committee.

Mayor Lewis F. Nelson announced the appointment of Theodore J. Oudenhoven to the city planning board, succeeding Joseph C. McCarty. A letter was read announcing President Roosevelt's approval of a $51,622 grant for the new power-house, contingent upon state sanction.

Upon motion of Alderman Kinder the board of public works was asked to put signs up on Hyland avenue designating it as such. Hyland avenue is Superhighway 41 as it goes through the city. Mayor Nelson reported upon a trip to Waterloo, Iowa, where he inspected a shoe factory. The mayor said a Milwaukee shoe firm, upon receiving Kaukauna's advertising booklet, sent an official here to look for a possible location. The Outagamie mill did not suit, Nelson said, adding he had since received information the Milwaukee firm was no longer interested.

Services are Held for Miss Nellie Hennessey
Kaukauna — Funeral services for Miss Nellie Hennessey, 48, were held Tuesday morning at Greenwood funeral home, with the Rev. A. E. Roder, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, in charge. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

Bearers were Lyle and Robert Danbrun, Anton Smith, Ed Klarer, Julius Sieberlich and Joseph Gertz.

Book Review Club to Meet At Library Thursday Night

Kaukauna — The Book Review club will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at the public library. Mrs. Neil Angeline will review "Wind, Sand and Stars," by St. Exupery.

Officers of St. Anne's court No. 226, Juvenile Foresters, installed at a meeting yesterday afternoon, were Dolores Dericks, chief ranger; Patricia Van Lishout, vice chief ranger; Dorothy Mae Floetz, recording secretary; Betty Ann Hatchell, treasurer, and Jo Ann McCarty, pianist. A Halloween party was held in the decorated hall, with lunch served.

Plans for the initiating of a class of 15 candidates at the Nov. 20 meeting were made Monday night as the Green Bay degree team will officiate. At the Nov. 6 meeting committees for the 1940 state bowling tournament will be named. The tournament will be held here in April.

American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at Legion hall, with a social following the business session. On the committee are Mrs. Walton Cooper, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Berens, Mrs. Sylvia Berens, Mrs. Genevieve Berens and Mrs. Michael Brewster.

Kaukauna Knights of Columbus will hold a regular meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening at their Wisconsin avenue clubrooms. Arthur J. Neumeyer, Brillion, will show motion pictures of a trip through northern United States and Canada.

Senior CYO of St. Mary's church will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening at the church hall. A business is scheduled.

Youths May Apply For Assignment to NYA Work Centers

Plan Is Designed to Provide Experience for 18-25 Age Bracket

Kaukauna — Applications from Outagamie county youths, who have reached their eighteenth and who have not passed their twenty-fifth birthday, will be received here for assignment to NYA resident work experience centers. Elmer Grebe, Outagamie county NYA supervisor, announced this morning. The centers are for young men and women who lack work experience and opportunity for furthering their education because of financial limitations. Applications may be made personally or by mail at the NYA office in the public library.

Men's units now being organized are at Marinette, Sheboygan and Racine. Two women's units are in operation, at Stevens Point and Rice Lake, with another to be organized in northeastern Wisconsin if enough acceptable applications are received.

"Although assurance cannot be given that every applicant can be accepted," Grebe said, "there are, at present, openings for 75 or more applicants in units now being organized or about to be organized."

"Every youth may earn $30 per month for work done on any NYA project," Grebe said. "The vocational school classes about 4 hours per school day. The purpose is to give opportunity for deserving young men and women to earn their way while receiving the training benefits. Expenses consumed about two-thirds of the pay check, and the remaining $10 going directly to the worker for his current personal expenses."

Sheboygan and Marinette vocational school courses offered are described in a prospectus upon request.

Hollywood — One of Southern California's autumn highlights is Joe E. Brown, the man who found his lost youth. Joe is the hottest football fan alive. Every week day evening, he reports on the U. C. L. A. practice field to "work out" with the boys. Every Saturday afternoon, he sits on the coach's bench, a t e r n a t e l y swooning and cavorting with the changes in the tide of battle.

Joe talks football, thinks football, eats football. It wouldn't surprise me, in the least, to learn that he sleeps each night in the varsity sweater presented to him by a grateful U. C. L. A.

It would all be very amusing — if it weren't quite so pathetic. Joe, you see, was "fanned out" to an acrobatic troupe when he was less than ten years old. He had no childhood — no playmate at all. And now, nearing fifty, he at last has enough money to lift his nose from the grindstone. Being too old to "make the team," he's content to be the team's glorified water boy, just to be in on the fun.

I'll never forget a luncheon at his home a year or two ago. For an hour, Joe kept me in his "trophy room," showing me his most precious treasures — a baseball with which Babe Ruth hit a homer... the football Columbia used to beat U. S. C. — a pair of spikes once worn by Charlie Paddock... a riding crop that belonged to a famous jockey.

I've heard people laugh at Joe's follies — but I double-dare them to watch the reverence with which Joe handles those sacred souvenirs and still laugh. Joe, at times like that, is handling his lost years.

IDOL CHATTER: Watching Jackie Coogan's current course, I wonder if Freddie Bartholomew hit a homer...

When Warner Brothers start filming a picture based on the life of Dr. Edward Jenner, discoverer of small pox vaccine, they will justly ballyhoo it as a super production — but it's amusing how they got the idea. Producer Bryan Foy's ten-year-old daughter asked him to help her write a school composition, on Dr. Jenner. Foy became so interested that he decided to make the picture — and from such trivial incidents spring some of our best productions.

One of the prize stories of the week is told by Joel McCrea, just came back from a deer hunting jaunt into the high Sierras. His mountaineer guide, one Joe Madeno, did such a top-notch job that Joel, in gratitude, asked if there wasn't some favor he could do him in return. "Well... maybe," said Madeno bashfully. There's an actress down there

Gloria Dickson, always high on the list of Hollywood's best-dressed, thinks a light touch of madness is a definite "must" for that first fall hat. Her choice is a tall-crowned black fur felt, with soft folds breaking the height, and a pleasantly giddy feather shooting upward from the stitched-down brim at the side. Miss Dickson is currently playing a featured role in the Warner film, "No Place To Go."

A meeting of the members of the Lions club was held at the Hammen hotel, Monday evening. A dinner followed the business meeting. John Yonan of Appleton was the speaker of the evening. His subject dealt with conditions in foreign countries.

In Hollywood, I'm kinda crazy about. I don't see her in many shows, but, seein' how you're an actor, maybe you could get me one of her autographed photos. "What's her name?" asked Joel. "Her name," said Mr. Madeno, with a wriggle, "is Frances Dee!"

Rev. Robert Bell Is Named Head of Civic Association

Group to Renew Request For Morgan School For Dance Series

The Appleton Civic association last night at the Woman's club made as its immediate objective the securing of the Morgan school for a series of Friday evening dances, elected officers and discussed the possibilities for an eventual city-wide recreational project.

It was voted to place in writing the association's request for use of the Morgan school for the dance series to start Nov. 3 for a trial period to Jan. 1. The written request will be sent to the school board which recently postponed action on a verbal request of the association's committee for the school and later proposed a survey to be made by committees of the association, school board and city council.

8 Members Added To Symphony Unit

Appleton Orchestra Complete Except for Brass Section

Eight members were added to the Appleton Symphony orchestra during a rehearsal last night at Morgan school. All of the sections now are complete but the brass section, according to Jay L. Williams, director.

Funeral services will be conducted at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Joseph church. The body will leave Schommer Funeral home at 8:30. Burial will be in St. Stanislaus cemetery, Hota Park, Wis.

Manitowoc Awards Generator Contract

Manitowoc—The city of Manitowoc has awarded to the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, a contract for construction of a 10,000 kilowatt turbo-generator to be used in the municipal light plant. The generator will double the plant's capacity. It will be ready in about a year. The company's bid was $226,000.

SCHEDULE MEETINGS

Four committee meetings have been scheduled today for the preparation of reports to be submitted at a city council meeting at 7:30 tonight in city hall. The street and bridge committee was scheduled to meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the license and ordinance committees at 4 o'clock and the recreation committee at 6:45 this evening.

Committee Proposes One Electric Meter For 3 Departments

Centralizing of the lighting systems of city hall, the police and fire departments on one meter will be recommended by the street lighting committee at a common council meeting tonight, according to Alderman McGillan, chairman.

The move is one of economy, suggested by Mayor John Goodland, Jr. McGillan said the city would save an estimated $150 per year in lighting costs.

The committee also will recommend the purchase of a traffic light timer from the General Electric company at a cost of $95 to replace one burned out at the corner of Memorial drive and Prospect avenue.

Street light will be recommended for the following locations: one block north of Parkway boulevard on N. Division street; on Superior street midway between Packard and Pacific streets; at Douglas and Summer streets; 500 feet south of John street on Walden avenue.

Fires of Leaves on Asphalt Cracks Road

Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer, today asked property owners to stop burning leaves on asphalt pavements. He said the heat from the fires cracks the pavement in many cases. He also requested leaves be disposed of in some other manner besides raking them into the gutters. Rain or melting snow will carry the leaves to the catch-basins on the corners, plugging them and causing water to back up in the street, he said.

New Members of Y Can Start Use of Building

People who took new memberships in the Appleton Y. M. C. A. during the fall campaign may start immediately the use of "Y" facilities, Homer Gebhardt, secretary, said today.

The fall campaign ended officially Monday night, with the workers exceeding the 1,200 membership mark by 25. The association has started its fall and winter sports and recreation program.

Chamber Asks Power For Yule Decorations

The city council today was asked by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce to again furnish electricity for the lights in the Christmas decorations being planned for College avenue this year. The request will be before the council at a meeting tonight. The Chamber plans decorations similar to those on the avenue last Christmas.

Manitowoc Awards Generator Contract

Manitowoc—The city of Manitowoc has awarded to the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, a contract for construction of a 10,000 kilowatt turbo-generator to be used in the municipal light plant. $6,000 Loss When Large Barn Burns

Fire Destroys Structure at Charles Kleist Farm Near Brillion

Back-fire from a tractor caused a fire which destroyed the large barn at the Charles Kleist farm, route 2, Brillion, about 5:45 yesterday afternoon. Loss was estimated at $6,000 and it is covered partially by insurance.

Besides the barn, a 40 by 84-foot structure, the season's crop of hay and grain and farm machinery were destroyed.

Members of the family were in the barn when flames broke out but escaped injury. They led the cows to safety.

Both the Potter and Brillion fire departments were called and succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading though forced to carry water in trucks about a mile. Firemen left about 1 o'clock but returned when the wind changed soon afterward and still were on the scene at 11 o'clock this morning.

Plane Shimmies but Fliers Remain in Air

Muncie, Ind.—Robert A. McDaniels, 23, of Muncie and Kelvin F. Baxter, 23, of Richmond, out for a new world's airplane endurance record, flew on today despite a shimmy in their 1,100-pound cabin monoplane, "Miss Sun Tan."

They dropped a note last night warning their ground crew to be careful in passing gasoline and oil up to them from a moving truck. They sent their generator down for repairs and hauled up a new battery.

The two took off at 10:53 o'clock the morning of Oct. 1, and have surpassed the light airplane record of 343 hours, 46 minutes, set in August by Hunter and Humphrey Moody, Decatur, Ill., brothers.

Paper Wrap Business At Peak, Firm Reports

An official of the Tuttle Press company reported today that his firm's 1939 Christmas wrapping paper business is "probably the best in the company's history."

Orders are "well ahead" of last year and exceed any recent years, he reported. The Appleton firm ships Christmas wrapping paper not only through the United States but to Hawaii, Australia, South America, South Africa and other countries abroad.

Wins 5th Straight Corn Husking Title

Beloit—Dick Post, state corn husking champion, won his fifth consecutive Rock county title yesterday in a contest held at the Norm Howard farm near Tiffany. Post lives in Center township. Three thousand witnessed the event. Philip Johnson of La Prairie, was second, and Henry Schollmeyer of Tuttle, third.

Workmen Completing Track at High School

A WPA crew, under the direction of Earl DeLong, is completing the running track on the senior high school grounds. Cinders gathered from the mills in this area are being spread to fill the track to the level of the gridiron. Workmen are leveling the football field which will be seeded and fertilized this fall.

Fair and Warmer Weather Forecast

Post-Crescent Thermometer Registers 57 Degrees This Afternoon

After a sample of wintry temperatures, things warmed up a bit today and the thermometer on the roof of the Post-Crescent building registered 57 degree early this afternoon. Prospects of continued pleasant weather were in view with a prediction of fair and warmer to night and Thursday.

The low mark for the 24-hour period preceding 9 o'clock this morning was 34 degrees at 10 o'clock last night while the highest level was 47 degrees at the end of the period, according to records at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Maximum and minimum temperatures in the nation yesterday as reported at official weather bureau stations were 92 degrees at Phoenix, Ariz., and 27 degrees at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., according to the Associated Press.

Woman Given Divorce On Charge of Cruelty

Myrtles Belling, 27, 337 W. Eighth street, was granted a divorce from Ervin Belling 34, Appleton, by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff charged cruel and inhuman treatment, and was given the right to resume her maiden name, Myrtles Langdon. The couple married in Appleton April 18, 1932 and separated in January of last year.

Chamber Board Will Meet at Brule Plant

Ten members of the board of directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce will meet Sunday at the Brule plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. The men who will attend the meeting are William O. Roemer, George A. Schmidt, Walter K. Miller, Joseph Koffend, William E. Schubert, Carleton Saecker, Richard Mahony, Dewey Zwicker, George But, and Matt A. Schuh.

Y Drive Members to Map Follow Campaign

Co-majors and aids in the Appleton Y. M. C. A. membership campaign, which ended Monday, will meet at a dinner Thursday noon to plan a follow-up drive, according to Homer Gebhardt, general secretary.

The drive netted 1,225 members and about $13,800. The goal was $15,000. Workers will be assigned possible members who were missed in the campaign.

Safety Movies Will Be Shown at Meetings

To assist teachers in their safety work, a series of meetings at which safety movies will be shown will be held in the county this week. The first meeting will be held at Fraser's hall, Nichols, at 8 o'clock this evening. Thursday night's meeting will be at Diem's hall, town of Maine, and Friday night's meeting at the Bear Creek high school. Teachers, parents and students have been urged to attend the meetings.

Bicyclist Is Bruised In Traffic Accident

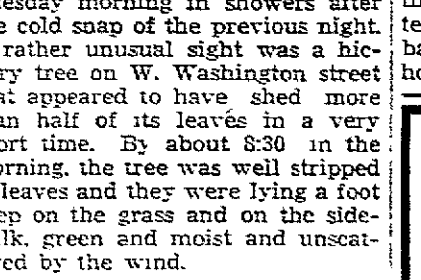

John Leonard, 18, 1315 S. Alicia drive, was slightly bruised when his bicycle and a car driven by Robert School, Jr., 23, 621 S. Pierce avenue, collided at an intersection about 6 o'clock last night. School was going west on Second street and Leonard south on Mason street when the collision occurred, it was reported to police.

It Is Said--

Leaves fell from Appleton trees Tuesday morning in showers after the cold snap of the previous night. A rather unusual sight was a hickory tree on W. Washington street that appeared to have shed more than half of its leaves in a very short time. By about 8:30 in the morning, the tree was well stripped of leaves and they were lying a foot deep on the grass and on the sidewalk, green and moist and unscattered by the wind.

Mrs. Keith Beggs Club President

Elected by Junior Woman's Group to Succeed Mrs. E. E. Schmidtke

Clintonville—Mrs. Keith Beggs was elected president of the Junior Woman's club Monday evening to complete the unexpired term of Mrs. E. E. Schmidtke, who moved to Chicago during the summer. Mrs. Melvin Kerstner was elected corresponding secretary to fill the vacancy caused when Mrs. Erwin Pinkowsky moved to Oshkosh about a month ago.

A letter was read from Francis M. Higgins, Red Cross roll call chairman, asking the club to conduct the annual membership campaign. Mrs. William Shivelor and Mrs. Ralph Laney were appointed chairmen, each to be assisted by 10 workers.

Mrs. Otto Olen talked to the junior women on her recent trip to Norway, where she and Mr. Olen visited the old ancestral homes of their parents and grandparents. The Olen left Clintonville late in May and returned in July, being away about six weeks.

"Director of Destiny," an article dealing with the lives of European kings and other rulers was read by Mrs. James Driessen. Musical numbers on the program included a saxophone selection by James Breed with piano accompaniment by Mary Ellen Archambeau; and a violin selection by Jackie Cooper with Mrs. Lloyd Pernot as the pianist.

The evening closed with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Roy Barker, Mrs. Clement Bohr and Mrs. Howard Antnes.

Mrs. Paul Kluth was hostess to her card club Tuesday afternoon at her home near Clintonville. Three tables of five hundred were played with high and travel prizes awarded to Mrs. George Below, Mrs. John Ewer and Mrs. Herman Hupke. The games were followed by the serving of a chicken dinner by the hostess.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Walch were at Green Bay Monday evening, where they were guests at a dinner and meeting of the White Shrine. Dr. Walch was the guest speaker, having for his subject, "The Great Pyramid and Its Divine Message." Mr. and Mrs. George Bernat, Mrs. Roy Martin, Mrs. Orville Kuckuk and Mrs. A. V. Chamberlain attended a meeting of the White Shrine at Wausau Monday evening. The occasion was past officers' night.

ORDER REPAIRS

Following an inspection of the courthouse this week, the buildings and grounds committee has ordered the repair of the roof and drain gutters and some minor repairs in the basement. Painting of the courthouse flagpole also was ordered.

good beginning," Chamberlain concluded.

Major Clement R. Attlee, leader of the labor opposition, said the house "ought to have an explanation" of why the German air-raid Monday apparently was unknown until the planes were over their Rosyth, Scotland, target. He said this impression tended to a lack of confidence in air-raid warnings.

Attlee also expressed opposition to the country's organization for war and said there should be a full-time economics minister in the war cabinet.

Meanwhile, British military experts today rated the submarine torpedo a more deadly weapon than Germany's air force.

The loss of at least eight German planes in raids on two British naval bases in the last two days was declared to be out of all proportion to the small amount of damage which communications said was inflicted on British warships.

But there was no attempt to conceal the concern caused by an enemy U-boat's exploit in the defense of the famous Scapa Flow naval base Saturday and sinking the battleship Royal Oak with a salvo of torpedoes.

WHAT SORT OF PEACE AFTER THIS WAR?

The position of men like Chamberlain and Daladier is extremely difficult because a statement of war aims is being demanded upon every hand and such a statement must be submitted by them with the utmost of care since its sincerity and accuracy will materially influence the battle as well as the future.

The world should be concerned about giving Germany an honest peace, something that was denied it in the last war. A dishonest peace-breeds certain future strife.

The German people want peace with pride. That is what the English want. That is what everyone wants. The German doesn't want to die in a rathole any more than anyone else. High explosives destroy his eardrums and nervous systems just as well as those of any other human.

Chamberlain and Daladier must agree upon war aims. And they must be published shortly. They should go into detail as much as it is practical to do so. But what Germany and the world really needs most of all is to be rid of the Nazi regime.

The democracies need to convince the German people that if they will eliminate Hitler and his cohorts of hatred and intolerance Germany may obtain a perfectly square deal from the other powers. That is the essential first step in the war against war.

Twenty-five years ago the democracies said they were fighting against a condition of autocracy which they described as Kaiserism. They cannot escape guilt for having replaced Kaiserism with a much more dangerous and despairful condition in Hitlerism. It will not do, therefore, to say today that their object is merely to rid the world of Hitlerism. They must answer the question: After this war, what? If they answer it sensibly and sincerely the war may terminate much faster than anyone supposes.

The Germans are a great and gifted people. Their contributions to the progress of the world matched by few and are surpassed by fewer.

They crave about what we crave, a peaceful, happy, industrious country, humming with work during the day and after nightfall sparkling with smiles, humor and music.

But, like us too, and every other people, the Germans have their own traditions. They admire discipline, orderliness and cleanliness in high degree. They have not taken very kindly to the tumult of democracy. Perhaps they are too serious minded to properly weigh all its froth and blather.

Given a fair chance to select the sort of government most suitable to the people and their hearts' desires they would probably select a constitutional monarchy, a democracy with a strong boss, but a democracy, nevertheless.

The war aims of France and England must be stated specifically. They should be worded so as to convince the German people that their position on a par in greatness to that of any other people will not be denied them, that their nation will no longer be cut and sliced just for the purpose of ham-stringing their efforts at industrial equality, and that the wrongs they may have done in the past will not be treated as crimes while similar wrongs done by every other nation will be treated as virtues.

Hitler controls largely the avenues of approach to the German people. He did not permit the printing in Germany of Chamberlain's late address to Parliament. He feared it would put him in a dangerous light with his own people.

Like every other race the Germans know inherently what approaches the fair and just. If they thought they could receive anything approximating justice from the democracies instead of the awful corpse they were handed by the Treaty of Versailles they would abandon Hitler for they are much too discerning a people ever to have admired him.

It is the democracies who have in their hands much of the issue of peace and war for the future.

WE MUST DEVISE A NEW BREED OF GOATS

The Gallup poll shows that those on relief are stronger for American participation in the war than anyone else. And it shows that in those classes from which businessmen, industrialists and even reactionaries are recruited the majority against participation is the heaviest.

Something will have to be done about this.

We simply cannot go on in this country denying the soapbox orator, the long-haired agitator, and the rest of that fringe called a bit queer, their inherent and, we might say, constitutional right to ride a goat.

If we ever get through the next few years without going to war we must reserve the right to the brass throated gentry to at least exorcise the bankers for trying to get us in. Aren't they trying? Why ask such a foolish question? They simply must be.

And it goes without saying that Wall Street, steel executives and truck manufacturers must be sitting up nights devising means to throw us into the bloody, brutal fray.

The Duponts, the Weirs, many others once classed as America's "60 families" because of their great wealth, even Colonel Lindbergh, married to the daughter of a former Morgan partner,—what do they mean by this dumfounding attitude of hostility to war? Why do they urge us to refuse munitions to all?

Pity the poor nervous wreck who sees ghosts in every flicker of a light and thrills as he hugs some grisly delusion to his breast, a delusion fed by even a more unstable mind than his own, possibly by the workless Daily Worker or other periodicals that spawn the queerest looking creatures that ever crawled out of a crack in the ground or from under a rotting log.

Enough of dealing with facts, with men in the flesh, with their efforts to preach sanity, decency and peace. We must have goats. Foul smelling goats with curling horns, treacherous goats, ungainly, tough and ugly.

And if they aren't immediately available why not create them as of yore?

WHY GEORGIA NEEDS A CHAIN GANG

The pampered son of Georgia, Richard Gallogly, whose death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, whose life imprisonment was commuted to walking around a Georgia farm, who took unto himself a wife while under life sentence, and who finally tired of the red clay of the Georgia countryside and fled to Texas, has announced that he really didn't participate in the killing of anyone and that his confession of guilt under which he has suffered the past ten years was induced by a sweet spirit of fellowship toward a pal who had gone wrong, become a killer, and whom he was trying to save from his wayward ways.

In the great book, black with crime and perfidy, in which are recorded the thousands of curious and putrid excuses, alibis, justifications and defenses for murder, room must be found for this product of an educated brain working ten years to discover something new.

For one gang member to claim that he attended all meetings of the outlaw outfit and was even present when the shooting took place but that his whole purpose was aimed at attempting to prevail upon the others to mend their errant ways, is somewhat unique.

No wonder it took Gallogly ten years to bring it forth.

BUT THE MURDERED ARE STILL DEAD

Billings couldn't be freed from prison as was Mooney since he was an ex-convict, and under the California constitution the governor can only free ex-convicts upon the recommendation of the supreme court.

That court had heretofore refused relief. It changed its attitude because the governor had pardoned Mooney.

No doubt it believed that Mooney's statement was extremely accurate, "Billings is no more guilty than I." But certainly Billings was just as guilty as Mooney. No one will doubt that either.

These cases stand as monuments to America's wrestle with its conscience. Due to a prosecutor whose judgment was not of the best the accused persons did not, in our opinion, have an American fair trial.

That does not mean that we think they were innocent or that there was insufficient evidence to prove they were guilty. They were both violent men. One had been convicted as a dynamiter and the other had been found with dynamite in his possession but acquitted. They were the kind of men who would have committed that awful deed 22 years ago.

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY IN THE YEAR 1939

The President had the Bremen searched from bilge to crow's nest. It was feared it might have a toy pistol and perhaps a box of caps and become a raider on the high seas.

But when the Mauretania came in and tied up at the docks its officers nonchalantly got out the deck guns and placed them fore and aft so as to rake the sea at any point of the compass.

The Mauretania may have all the guns she wants. The Bremen cannot be trusted with them. One speaks English and the other German.

For such is neutrality and the majesty of the law under the gentleman who says himself that he is a leader of liberalism.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—Here's a bit of a game I just thought up. I call it "Sing Out the Answer," but I'm not partial to the title. If you have a better one it's O.K. with me, and a cupcake with you. You may even have a better game, and that's O.K. with me, too, with cream and sugar.

You play "Sing Out the Answer" this way: The leader, who for the purposes of the frolic is named "Maestro," calls out a word—any word within reason—and the idea of the game is for the players, one or severally, to sing in reply the phrase of any song which in his or her minds fits definitely the given word. For instance, the Maestro calls out "London," and the response might be the song, "I'm in a Fog." The song, in other words, should be partly descriptive in a broad and topical way, but of service to some, not very good, but of service to some, as examples, viz.:

China—"I Wonder Who's Ki(ck)ssing Her Now?"

Chamberlain—"Umbrella Man."

Maginot Line—"Hold Tight."

Haile Selassie (remember)—"I Ain't Got Nobody."

An Anglerworm—"When the Red Red Robin Comes Bob-Bob-Bobbing Along." (The idea being that it will be just too bad for the anglerworm, get the idea?)

Procrastinator—"Some of These Days."

Hitler-Stalin (duet)—"I'm Getting Sentimental Over You."

Prohibition—"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Propaganda—"It Ain't Necessarily So."

If anyone cares to try this out some chilly winter evening around a roaring fire, go right ahead. Let me know if it works, will ya?

Just Between Myself: (scrawls in the notebook)...

Fred Allen has the bluest eyes; oughta do a little item on Colleen Ward for the News-Tribune in Duluth, her home town, but can't think of anything except that she's pretty, pleasant and talented, and that she landed a nice job acting on radio 24 hours after she hit town looking for work; Erin O'Brien-Moore turned down the original role of Mrs. Lincoln in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" because she was convinced the show would flop, and the other day when Muriel Kirkland decided to quit the role after 415 consecutive performances, Erin turned it down again, possibly because she still thinks it'll flop; Andre Kostelanetz, the maestro, applied for U. S. citizenship papers 24-hours after his arrival from Russia many years ago; didn't take him long to decide what kind of country he wanted to be in; Don't fail to get Rusty out to the Dog Hospital today, the poor pup—and to quit feeding him between meals; Remember, not to do any fist fighting at the Stork Club, on account of their forbidding their premises to all persons doing same; also remember not to do any fist fighting anywhere, on account of you are too frail and bleed too easily; Pualani, the prettiest of the Hawaiian girls who have been hula-ing sedately hereabouts for the past year, is getting married any day now, bless her heart, it would be a swell idea if readers would write and tell you what they personally are thankful for this year, with two Thanksgiving Day columns looming ahead; Can't understand why the Book-of-the-Month committee would select a novel like Elliot Arnold's "Only the Young" which to my gentle taste is the dullest thing I've read this year, including the East St. Louis "Horses and Mules Market Report"; Don't forget to wear the black tie wardrobe for that Surf Club dinner tomorrow night (Remember last year when you attended that formal affair wearing a polo shirt open at the throat, and was everybody's face red!).

Wedding Windows:

In the block at Grand and Christie Streets the store windows bulge with wedding clothes—displays to thrill the young ladies who do on marriages with all the old fashioned trimmings. Store dummies are dressed in wedding gowns, bridesmaids' dresses, clothes for bridegrooms and best men—everything. Year in and year out these store windows are given over to these displays. Maybe marriages are more popular around Grand and Christie than in other parts of New York where the ceremony is often just a quick "I Do" before a bored magistrate. Mostly the wedding equipment is sold, but complete outfits can be rented if the families don't feel financially up to buying the things outright.

A knowledge of localities is essential to any one wishing to shop in specialized markets. Delicious Armenian dishes, for instance, can be found along Lexington Avenue down in the twenties. Ride up the same thoroughfare to 86th Street and the language you'll hear, the food you'll buy and the shops you'll see are German. There is a large market down on Second Avenue which specializes in delicacies from Greece and Turkey, and further uptown are the Italian places.

And in all this mighty Metropolis, if you would ask me where there is a section solidly American—American in the sense that one never heard boasts of European racial background—I wouldn't know, nor would anyone; for there is none.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, Oct. 16, 1929
W. H. Pierce, with a 735 series on games of 250, 249 and 236, rolled the highest score of the bowling season at Neenah Tuesday night during City League matches.

These cases stand as monuments to America's wrestle with its conscience. Due to a prosecutor whose judgment was not of the best the accused persons did not, in our opinion, have an American fair trial.

That does not mean that we think they were innocent or that there was insufficient evidence to prove they were guilty. They were both violent men. 25 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1914
The United States had protested to England the seizure of the American steamer John D. Rockefeller by a British warship. Attacks by the Germans on Nieuport, Dixmude and Labassee were repulsed. It was reported, Turkey had closed the Gulf of Smyrna to warships. Both Austrians and Russians were claiming gains.

The annual bridge tournament was to open at the Elks club that night and continue through the season.

Of the old pavements in the city, creosoted blocks were said to be the cheapest, although the original cost was the greatest.

A Verse for Today
By Anne Campbell

HER FRIENDS CAME BACK
All her old friends came back to her today,
And the young relatives, whose gayety
Had seldom blessed her house, came in to say
Good-bye to her. How happy she would be
To hear their thoughtful voices and to know
They shared her memory of long ago!

She had been ill and lonely for so long,
It was too bad they did not come before.
They would have cheered her with a youthful song;
She would have prized their footsteps by her door.
She smiles as if to summon her last breath
To greet them from the starry realm of Death.

ON THE WAR ISSUE
Editor Post-Crescent—As a nation of myth-makers and slaves of mythology, Americans are the victims of the most preposterous and absurd development of propaganda the world has ever witnessed. The events in Europe are heralded across the American scene in an attempt to induce the citizens of this nation to believe that vital and important issues are at stake and that the safety of our citizenry is threatened and every time Mr. Hitler blows his nose. Our political leaders would have us believe that it is necessary and essential that the North American continent again participate in a European War, thus repeating the futility of 1917.

A closer examination of the events which transpired after the World War and the circumstances leading up to the present situation might enable us to arrive at a rational analysis as to whether we have anything to gain from another world slaughter. If the last war made the world safe for Democracy, then indeed the Fair Maiden must be travelling under an assumed name in Europe.

To those Americans who died in that war and to those who escaped death only to complete life's journey blind, crippled, diseased or mentally deficient, a salute is due. Nevertheless, you are confronted with the stark realization that whatever your sacrifices during this period of hysteria, they were made in vain. Nothing was created nor was anything saved in the last world conflict. After the atrocities and smoke had cleared away Europe was faced with the problem of reconstruction and America had the unique distinction of advancing credit for the undertaking of this task. Now, before three decades have passed, we are again to believe that another bogey-man in Europe is on the loose and it is our duty to pass legislation which will aid certain nations thus taking the natural resources from this continent and spreading them across the sea for the purpose of death and destruction. After that legislation has passed, only another step would be required to our entrance in the war to recoup our losses,—and what will the slogan be? Surely not the same one used in the last calamity for that would be adding insult to injury, therefore a new term must be phrased and we could possibly call it "For the safety of 'e Merrie England" which ironically might be quiet correct.

Contrary to the thinking of some politicians and statesmen, America's future does not lie in Europe nor will our engaging in periodic wars off this continent bring culture or a more abundant life to its citizenry. Those leaders of to-day who advocate such a program are grossly incompetent and unqualified to handle the affairs of state. This continent is not threatened by attack from any European power inasmuch as they have more than they can handle in their own hemisphere. We cannot promote the welfare of our own population or make them more happy and secure by sending guns and men to defend decaying institutions in Europe. America's frontiers do not lie on the battle fields of Europe but instead our future is here on the North American continent with its abundance of natural resources, trained technicians, and a high degree of scientific achievement. To quote Colonel Chas. Lindbergh in his recent radio address: "Sooner or later we must demand the freedom of this continent and its surrounding islands from the dictates of European power. As long as European powers maintain their influence in our hemisphere we are like slaves to their whims and are at their troubles and they will lose no opportunity to involve us. It is unfortunate but true that there are interests in America who would rather lose American lives than their own dollars."

It is obvious that the present war preparations here are directly responsible for the increase in industrial activity such as steel production, airplanes, chemical industries, warship building et cetera. Some economists are beginning to point this out as a healthy sign of a return to normalcy, but if this represents a diagnosis their pathology is unbounded. Sometime ago Mr. Babson was ending each weekly newspaper release with the statement that only a "spiritual revival" could bring production up to pre-war levels. America's prosperity, in last Saturday's words of wisdom, Mr. Babson reviewed the armament preparations and made the statement that he was "very bullish on the U. S. for the next couple years." If the present preparations are any indication of a spiritual revival then the gentleman from Wellesley Hills had better re-examine the physical data involved.

Only on this continent can a new social order come into being only here and without the aid of Europe can Science develop a design for living that will transcend all civilizations and all cultures of history. This opportunity is given to our continent alone and it is clamoring at our gates. In the very near future Americans must choose their course. Science is lighting this continent with an understanding founded on knowledge and if man cannot straighten out the ills prevalent here, with the stupendous cosmic engine of Science now in his hands then those who survive will be compelled to revert to the earlier stages of man's evolution. Our challenge is to clean up our own continent and not meddle in the affairs of nations across the ocean.

THE WELL LAID PLANS OF MICE AND MEN

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY MORRIS H. RUBIN
Progressive Party Publicist
Madison—On Nov. 11, 1939, three days after a landslide of votes swept Julius P. Heil into the governorship of Wisconsin, the Associated Press sent its members an interview with the governor-elect. Tucked away in a concluding paragraph was this direct quotation from Gov. Heil: "I've sent for a copy of the reorganization bill. I'm going to study that carefully."

Nobody paid much attention to that paragraph. Certainly it sounded harmless enough. But now, viewed from the vantage point of a 269 day legislative session, that simple paragraph carries a world of meaning and explanation.

Mr. Heil's promise to send for a copy of the vitally important reorganization act of 1937 came after the campaign was over—after he had gone up and down this state denouncing a law he had never read.

And this attitude, it seems to this observer at least, typified the Republican administration's behavior during the 269 day legislative session which left the Republican platform in shambles.

It was the attitude of a group of men who were uncomfortable with their total lack of experience in the exacting science of government—a group of men who rushed around with promises and grand announcements and then sat down to ponder simple realities.

Take the all-important question of finances, for instance.

Candidate Heil and other Republican orators gave the people of Wisconsin solemn assurance that they proposed to reduce state expenditures by $15,000,000 a year. And at the same time, and in the same platform, they promised to increase expenditures for pensions and education—the two biggest items in the state budget.

Obviously, the two objectives clash head on, and yet the Republican orators went blandly on one way promising economy out of one side of their mouths and liberalization of appropriations out of the other side.

When they moved into the state capital and were compelled to resolve their dilemma, they ran away from it as long as they could. After a month in office, Gov. Heil sent his budget message to the legislature and in it he still persisted in the fiction that his budget provided both economy and liberalization of state aids.

It was only in the last two or three months of the record-breaking session, when the Republican administration could no longer shrink from the consequences of its own folly, that the general public realized that it was in for. After enacting, and in one case increasing every tax levied by the Progressives, plus a two cents a package tax on cigarettes, the administration found itself $21,000,000 in the hole.

And that hole was still there when the legislature adjourned, threatening the state government with a major financial crisis.

NICE PLACE
Omaha, Neb., (AP)—Eskimos on King Island, giant rock in the Bering sea 90 miles from Nome, Alaska, have a 50-year record of no murder, no suicide, no divorce, no deadly quarrel, no venereal disease, no crime.

It was the observation here of Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S. J., noted "glacier priest," who took exception with those who "think of the Eskimos as primitive."

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

NOTES ON BELLY ACHES
Two of the terrors of childhood that never happen, as nearly as I can learn, are "cramps" from going in swimming when too warm or something and "cholera morbus"—tremendous belly ache and vomiting and diarrhea — from eating green apples. These bogies belong in the same category as the village barbershop myth that if you place a hair from a horse's tail, or even a human hair in a bottle of water, in due time it will turn into a snake. Probably most boys and girls today smile at these childish beliefs of most grownup people fifty years ago.

Today the first thing parents think of when a boy or girl has a belly ache is appendicitis.

Since people generally have become aware of the fact that the appendix is situated in the southwest portion of the abdomen a good deal of misunderstanding, confusion and unnecessary alarm is occasioned by misinterpretation of the significance of belly ache.

Altho the appendix is in the right lower corner of the abdomen it does not follow that pain or distress due to inflammation in the appendix is felt in that same southwest section.

On the contrary, the pain or discomfort (often it is not so much pain or ache as it is a sense of great tension or compression) usually occurring with the onset of appendicitis is felt in the "pit of the stomach," that is, in the middle of the belly (front wall of abdomen) well up in the north temperate zone. Only after the appendix, if that is what the belly ache means, has progressed considerably does the lower right quadrant become tender or painful. This is a little lesson in safety first for every one—remember that the belly ache of appendicitis does not begin in the southwest but rather in the north midsection. If the ache, pain, soreness or distress is felt on one side it is unlikely to signify trouble in the appendix.

Another little lesson in safety first which every one ought to learn is this:

In any case of belly ache if there is any suspicion or fear of appendicitis it is dangerous to take a laxative or cathartic. Should the trouble actually be appendicitis, the effect of laxative or cathartic is to aggravate and perhaps increase or hasten spreading of the inflammation. In the statistics accumulated by careful study of this question over many years we have convincing proof that the wisest management of acute belly ache is quiet rest, no medication unless or until medical attention is procured, and especially NO PHYSIC, and of course no enema or injection in lieu of physic. For the effects, increase in peristalsis or intestinal activity or movement, are the same—spreading of inflammation, greater chance of peritonitis (general inflammation of bowels, which is the fatal outcome of appendicitis untreated or improperly treated).

Neuromuscular Irritability
I know you have pointed out repeatedly that "nervousness" is no explanation for symptoms, but still I can't understand why I am so very sensitive, jumpy and irritable? (M.L.R.)

Answer—Perhaps nutritional deficiency. Include in your diet plenty of milk, cheese, peas, beans, peanuts, raw cabbage and salad greens. Three pints of milk daily or its equivalent in cream, butter, milk, cottage cheese, ice cream, etc. Spend twenty-five cent coin and stamped envelope bearing your address.

Just a Step Behind the News
By Dave Boone

The Germans sure are hitting England with everything except the water-bucket. But you've got to bear in mind that John Bull is a great feller for getting up off the floor.

Berlin is even mixing sarcasm with its torpedoes and bombs, and says it will be glad to furnish the British with photographs of all that happened at Scapa Flow, if they're still a little hazy about details.

One thing looks fairly certain to me. Either the nazis are using a new type of U-boat, or the British navy is taking longer to sense what's going on around it. The confession that the Royal Oak didn't recognize the first torpedo attack and waited in confusion for twenty minutes for a return visit is the sensation of the war so far. Those U-boat "detectors" must be a good short sale just now.

The Germans couldn't have caught the British more off guard if they were torpedoing by radio. But lest you go off half-cocked and think it's all one-sided, there's that Berlin announcement that a German family can buy up to one egg a week from now on. Any country that makes an omelette a luxury as a community affair ain't any too strong.

Germany is inducing its people to eat still more fish.

Guatemala is launching low cost housing projects.

Third Ward Will Join Campaign to Exterminate Rats

New London Council Approves Outagamie County Drive

New London—The rat extermination program underway by Outagamie county was approved for the Third ward at a regular meeting of the city council at the city hall last night.

The county has allotted $400 for rat bait and residents of the county are privileged to secure a supply of special bait free of charge if they care to use it, according to a communication from the county agriculture agent to O. H. Pribnow, Third ward supervisor.

Pribnow will take orders for the bait at his place of business on S. Pearl street and will distribute the poison at the same place on Friday, Oct. 27. A brief telephone survey by Alderman Harry Emans revealed that all industrial plants were willing to cooperate in the program and many residents, particularly near the river, would take advantage of the assistance offered.

Would Close Stores

Representatives of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary attended the council meeting and asked cooperation of the council in requesting business places in the city to close Saturday evening, Nov. 11, to allow store owners, operators and clerks to attend the annual Armistice day banquets held on that day. The aldermen voted 6 to 4 to suggest the proposition to the store owners in a public proclamation, leaving to the auxiliaries the task of petitioning the store keepers to follow the suggestion.

A petition by residents at the corner of Smith and Warren streets for sewer facilities was referred to the board of public works. The sewer mains end a block from the corner. Signers of the petition were August Vetter, F. M. Griswold and Nick Huss.

A suggestion by Alderman Theodore Thomas to erect an arterial stop sign on W. Wolf river avenue at the intersection of Wyman street was referred to the board of public works. The installation was approved by Chief of Police Harry D. Macklin because of congested parking and heavy traffic at that point.

Orin R. Huntley was granted a tavern operator's license.

New London Keglers Takes Two Games in Classic Pin League

New London — New London High Life Keglers took advantage of an off-night by Schultz Brews of Waupaca to take two games in Waupaca County Classic league matches at Praha's alters last night. Three Waupaca pinsters paid fines for games under 140. Erv Buelow of the winners plopped highest series with 522 and E. H. Smith of the losers smacked a 203 game for tops by a big margin.

The High Lifes hit team scores of 836, 836, 795—2467, to 727, 774, 866—2367 for Schultz Brews.

Tavern League

Meiklejohn's Clothes gained in their first place lead when they white-washed the Franklin House three games last night and boosted their own high team total to 2,539. Charles Pfeifer of the leaders was way out in front with honor scores of 198, 207 and 174. 579. Thurg's Tavern of Sugar Bush won two from the Sportsmen's Tavern of Bear Creek.

Mrs. Monsted Called To Home of Her Father

New London — Mrs. J. W. Monsted left Monday evening for Bottineau, N. D., where she was called unexpectedly by the serious illness of her father, A. S. Nero.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Rogers and E. J. Freuburger, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freuburger of Barlesville, Okla.

Students at High School Preparing For Homecoming

Game With Menasha '11' Will be Highlight of Weekend Events

New London—While the football squad is drilling hard for the toughest game so far this season at Kaukauna Saturday, all members of the Pep club of Washington high school are busily preparing for the last home game of the season—the climaxing homecoming game with Menasha here next week on Friday evening, Oct. 27.

Committees are at work this week fulfilling plans for the big annual event. Schedule of activities calls for a bonfire pep meeting on the school grounds the night before, a grand parade of floats prepared by high school groups on Friday afternoon and a homecoming dance in the high school gymnasium after the game.

Committees assigned by Kenneth Ross, president, and assisted by faculty advisers Miss Alma Halverson and Harold Isaacson are as follows: Bonfire, Bert Saterstrom, James Christensen, Kenneth Ross, Gordon Meiklejohn, Richard Wyman, Donald Huber, Robert Houk, Robert Seering, James Lautenschlager, Rosemary McDaniel, Ellen Platte, Jean Ullerich, Lois Steingraber, gym decorations, Alice Stanley, James Christian, Allen Ziebur, Ethel Knapstein, Delores Brault, Alice Davy, Jean Fox, refreshments, Ellen Platte, Betty Hammerberg.

Will Float Float

Named to prepare the club's own float for the parade were Dorothy Allen, Lois Palmer, Richard Demmunt, Marcella Dernbach and Mary Loving.

At a party at the high school band room last night the group initiated six new members into its ranks. The initiates were Robert Houk, Donald Huber, Jean Fox, Mary Loving, James Lautenschlager and Alice Davy.

The Future Homemakers association of Washington high school held a candlelight initiation service for 26 new members in the home economics rooms at the high school last night.

Miss Dix Advises Parents to Grow Up With Their Children

BY DOROTHY DIX

If parents would only grow up with their children, it would save so many of the conflicts that make most homes in which there are adolescent girls and boys a dark and bloody battleground. It would prevent so many of the quarrels and estrangements between fathers and mothers and their youngsters that drench the family circle with tears and fill it with resentments on both sides.

But apparently this desirable evolution seldom takes place. Most parents never outgrow their infantilism so far as their children are concerned. Their mental picture of their offspring always shows them in the romper stage. They never see Mary and John and Tom and Susan as anything but babies in arms, with undeveloped brains and legs too weak to stand on, who have to be held by the hand and told what to do.

But, alas, no matter how much parents desire to keep their children in perpetual babyhood, it can't be done. They will grow up. Because parents don't recognize this, the trouble begins that turns boys and girls into furious rebels who regard their fathers and mothers as grinding tyrants who are trying to deprive them of all of the joys of life, and that makes fathers and mothers shed bitter tears over the ingratitude of the children for whom they have sacrificed so much.

This tragedy, which breaks as many hearts and wrecks as many lives as anything else in the world, is brought about by the parents' inability to see that while Mary and John are growing and developing physically and every year have to have bigger clothes and different clothes, they refuse to see that they are growing mentally and spiritually and should have larger liberty and a new pattern of home treatment. They wouldn't try to squeeze Mary and John, who are 13 and big for their ages, into the garments they were when they were 5. But they try to make John and Mary, who are bright, intelligent, 15-year-olds, comply with the regulations that were enforced upon them when they were little toddlers.

Naturally the half-grown children object to being treated as if they were babies. They feel that they have a right to some personal liberty, a right to indulge their own tastes, pick out their own clothes, wear freak sweaters, use lipstick and rouge, and that they should not be made to eat spinach and go to bed at 10 o'clock.

But Mother and Father, who still call their adolescent children "kiddies" and who think they should prefer to stay at home at night and be told bedtime stories to going to school parties with other youngsters, wring their hands and want to know what the world is coming to when their boys and girls want to cut their leading strings. What if John is six feet high and as broad as a door, they are sure he will get lost if he goes out alone. And the very idea of Mary, who is 16, wanting to have dates and thinking about boys! They positively forbid it.

Terrible things happen because parents won't grow up along with their children and realize that they are no longer infants, but are turning into men and women, entitled to a certain amount of freedom and to the expression of their own individualities. Because they cannot get this consideration, so dear to the teenagers of the adolescent, from their families is the reason that nearly all boys and girls are so crazy to leave home.

It is why Sally, whose parents think her too young to have beaux at home, meets boys at the corner drug store; why Mary elopes with some good-for-nothing to get away from Mother's bossing; why Tom runs away from home in search of liberty, and spoils all the plans and dreams of Father who has worked so hard and sacrificed so much to try to give him an education and a good start in the world.

I get thousands of letters from youngsters telling of the unintentional cruelty to which their parents subject them in the fond belief that John, aged 20, is still little Johnny who can't walk alone. One of them writes:

"I am a boy nearly 20 years old. I have splendid parents whom I love and who I know are doing what they think is right for me, but they are ruining my life by treating me as a child. I want to go off to college, but I confess I can't tolerate this man any longer. He just irritates me so terribly I'm going to quit my job."

"Don't you think there are some people who are beyond the power of psychology?"

DIAGNOSIS: That's what the associates of Scrooge and Silas Marner probably thought, too.

It is always possible, theoretically at least, to solve conflicts by use of psychology instead of bayonets or angry jibes.

I'll admit that some misanthropes and domineering dictators may not offer a high probability, but at least the possibility of change is there.

When the batting average of a player is too low, however, a good baseball manager pulls him out of the line-up. Similarly, it may be wise to pull a man off a job or even out of matrimony in extreme cases.

Sometimes, for instance a ball of twine or a fishing gets so snarled that it is cheaper to discard it and buy a new one, for the time factor may be so urgent that one cannot wait long enough to untangle the mess.

Snarled Human Lives Men and women have often consulted me whose lives were so snarled with bad habits and conflicts that I wished I could roll time backward for 25 or 50 years and re-make their personalities.

Failures in social and business life are usually owing to bad habits that have been allowed to

Success of Hand Rested On Trick Play

BY ELY CULBERTSON

The following letter was received from an inmate in a penitentiary and is indisputable proof that splendid bridge can be found in very strange places.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: As a constant and appreciative reader of your daily bridge articles, I wish to submit a hand which seems to me to bring up a new point. As a declarer, I freely admit I was greatly helped by the opening and subsequent leads. Regardless of this, I feel that very few defenders would have seen through my ruse.

"West dealer. "North-South vulnerable. NORTH ♠ K J 5 ♥ 10 8 ♦ J 10 ♣ Q J 7 6 5 3 2 WEST ♠ Q 10 6 5 4 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ A K Q 9 ♣ 8 5 SOUTH ♠ A 3 2 ♥ A 8 7 ♦ A 6 5 ♣ A K 10 9

"The bidding: West 1 spade Pass North 2 diamonds 4 clubs Pass East 3 clubs Pass South 4 clubs Pass 5 clubs Pass 6 clubs Pass

"I was South. Perhaps the bidding wasn't all it should have been, but I am so sick of being babied that I am thinking of running away from home."

There are millions of boys like this who run away from home because they can't stand to be "little Johnnies" any longer. There are millions of girls who marry ne'er-do-wells just to cut Mamma's apron strings. And millions of other girls who meet boys on the sly and come to grief because their parents thought they were too young to have dates at home. So it is a pity that parents don't often grow up with their children and change their tactics in dealing with them according to the age of their children. Be your children's age is even better advice than being your own age.

What About Mothers Who Disrupt Homes? Dear Miss Dix—What must we do about our mother? There are two brothers and three sisters of us, all married. My mother has tried living with all of us and each time she has made great unhappiness and almost broken up the home she was in. She is very hard to get along with for she doesn't approve of anything and is very much down on the way people live today. Also she is very interfering and wants to manage our homes and tell us how to treat our husbands and wives, and how to raise our children. Of course, we can stand it, but it makes the in-laws furious. And when she gets mad sometimes she won't speak for weeks at a time. All of us want to do our part for her and to make her happy, but she is never satisfied anywhere, with anything. What can we do? MAY.

Answer: The sensible and practical thing to do will be for each of you five children to contribute so much every month to your mother's support, and either establish her in a boarding house or a little apartment.

It is maudlin sentimentality to feel that you have to endure the presence of a disagreeable old woman in your house just because she is your mother. She will doubtless make herself still further disagreeable by reproaching you with ingratitude and bemoan her loneliness, but she has brought her misfortunes on her own head and she must pay for her cantankerous conduct.

When children marry, their first duty is to their wives and husbands and the children that they bring into the world. That is Bible doctrine, and neither one nor daughters have a right to bring a mother into the home if she is going to disrupt it.

When buying bath towels consider their weight. Heavier towels will absorb more water than the lightweight ones.

TOMORROW'S HAND South, dealer. Both sides vulnerable. NORTH ♠ K J 10 7 ♥ A K 8 4 ♦ 7 ♣ Q 9 4 3 WEST ♠ Q 7 6 5 ♥ 8 6 4 3 ♦ A K 10 6 5 ♣ 8 SOUTH ♠ A Q 6 5 4 3 ♥ None ♦ A K Q J 10 ♣ J 7

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

My Neighbor Says—

To prevent taffy and other sticky candies from becoming soft, wrap each piece in waxed paper and store it in a covered tin or glass jar. A fruit jar with a firm lid is unusually satisfactory.

Cranberry jelly served with a simple meal in which hamburger steak is the meat or with casserole dishes is just as pleasing a combination as cranberry jelly with turkey, although quite different in flavor and texture. The jelly is likewise delicious with such meats as lamb and pork. Whether the meat is broiled, roasted or braised makes no difference as far as the pleasing results are concerned.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

A great deal has been written about the care of the oily skin and most of it applies to one woman or another, who has such a complexion problem, but because the theories are so varied the proverbial Mrs. Jones might easily become confused.

If your skin is oily, a good soap is your best friend. You may wash your skin both morning and night making a lather with the soap and warm water, and rinsing it well with alternate splashes of warm and cold water.

If you live in a city, or a dusty town, you may use a cleansing cream at the end of the day. Massage your skin well with it (it should be quickly liquified) and after removing it be sure to wash your skin with soap and water. A good toning is next in order, but I do not agree with those authorities who suggest a strong astringent. An ordinary skin tonic, or a powder foundation lotion which is astringent, should be sufficient to give your skin a nice mat finish and help to hold your makeup intact.

Because your scalp also tends to be oily you must have frequent shampoos, or scalp cleansings with a tonic, or the oil from your scalp will travel downward and make your face oily too.

Your Makeup Problem When it comes to painting your pretty face—you have a definite problem. First of all, select your powder, your rouge and lipstick carefully. Buy textures which are suitable to an oily complexion. Seek the advice of your salesgirl, who should be familiar with the various brands and their consistencies.

Your powder foundation lotion (if you use one) must not be the slightest bit greasy. It should seem to disappear shortly after its application. And it must be used sparingly.

Your powder next Apply this lavishly to your skin with a fresh wad of absorbent cotton. When your face looks as if you "jumped into a flour-barrel" take your soft-haired powder brush and brush away until only a thin, even film of powder is left on your face and neck. If you use rouge, use powder in huge and place it over the first layer of powder. Cover it with a light dabbing of powder and again brush your cheeks.

A tiny brush should be sufficient to brush away the powder from your lashes and brows, but if they are slightly faded touch them up with mascara and brown pencil using the most delicate strokes.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

Patience and shrewd analysis will usually unravel the worst snarl, whether it be in a fishline or a human personality. Don't irritably reach for a knife when you may accomplish much more by diplomacy and tact. Would that European nations could use these 5 Laws for Paying Compliments! A smile is a compliment but a scowl is a psychological blow.

CASE-O-178: Marian D., aged 24, is a former student of mine. "I simply can't stay in my present job any longer," she exploded as she sat down in my office. "My employer is one of those loud-mouthed men who yells at everybody and everything. He constantly is trying to make an impression."

"And he snoops around just to find an error or mistake in the hope of bawling somebody out."

"Dr. Crane, I thought I knew your psychology when I was in college, but I confess I can't tolerate this man any longer. He just irritates me so terribly I'm going to quit my job."

"Don't you think there are some people who are beyond the power of psychology?"

DIAGNOSIS: That's what the associates of Scrooge and Silas Marner probably thought, too.

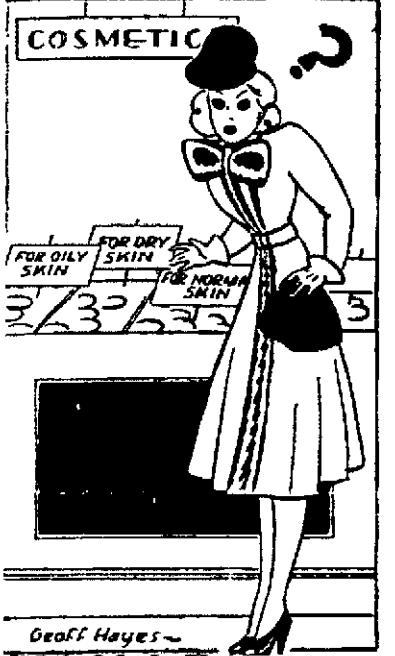

It is always possible, theoretically at least, to solve conflicts by use of psychology instead of bayonets or angry jibes.

I'll admit that some misanthropes and domineering dictators may not offer a high probability, but at least the possibility of change is there.

When the batting average of a player is too low, however, a good baseball manager pulls him out of the line-up. Similarly, it may be wise to pull a man off a job or even out of matrimony in extreme cases.

Sometimes, for instance a ball of twine or a fishing gets so snarled that it is cheaper to discard it and buy a new one, for the time factor may be so urgent that one cannot wait long enough to untangle the mess.

Snarled Human Lives Men and women have often consulted me whose lives were so snarled with bad habits and conflicts that I wished I could roll time backward for 25 or 50 years and re-make their personalities.

Miss Average Consumer is frequently bewildered by cosmetic displays. It is up to the sales girl to help her select appropriate beauty aids.

Never go out with a hard brow line drawn or your lashes stiffly laden with coloring. The more natural gloss you keep around your eyes the younger and brighter they appear.

Choosing the Lipstick Your lipstick must be the type which adheres or you'll find your self with a smeary mouth. To get just the right one might take a little experimenting but once you find the right lipstick be loyal to it and buy its range of colors.

More money and patients can be wasted on lipsticks and no one person is able to recommend one specific brand for you because lipsticks are very independent—they adhere nicely or not, depending upon the skin chemistry of the lips.

If your skin is very oily you should travel with those small cleansing pads and always remove your old make-up before applying fresh. They come in a compact and are thoroughly saturated with an astringent cleansing lotion. One or two will give you a face a pretty satisfactory cleansing if you find yourself away from home for hours.

"How to Treat a Blemished Skin" is a free leaflet. If you request it, enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp.

Youth Must Have More Than Brains to Make the Grade

BY ANGELO PATRISI

There are children who have high intelligence quotients, but fall in school. In the elementary grades their teachers and parents keep driving them to work and, by sheer weight of their authority and interest, push them into graduation. Sometimes they are graduated from high school, under the same drive.

The parents of these children are astonished at the lack of interest they show in their education. "Can't you see that you are throwing away wonderful opportunities for education, for a place in life? Can't you see that the thing you are wasting is your own success? Why don't you get down to work? Why don't you try to make something of yourself?"

Somewhere they manage to get this child into college. A friendly teacher helps someone provides a scholarship, or his people make sacrifices, often vital ones, to get him there. But the pattern does not change. Under his own power now, he cuts class, he moves himself into a fraternity building; he is busy about everything except his college courses. At the end of the year the last letter from the Dean comes. The student returns home. What is the trouble with such children? They have intelligence, but they don't use it. Why?

I don't know. From what I have seen of them it appears they lacked the drive that a strong will, a deep desire and a purpose should give them. Nobody succeeds in doing a worthy job unless he very much wants to. Nobody has vision to a place of power unless he wanted to get there more than he wanted to do anything else in life. Before anything is done by anyone he must hunger for the doing, or the result of the doing. Once that drive is a born, once that purpose is set, nothing in life is as important as the success of it.

Is there anything one can do to create that purpose in a child? Nobody can create a purpose, and a will, in a child. But—and this is of the utmost importance—parents and teachers can, if they are intelligent and have the opportunity, stimulate a budding desire, a timid gesture toward creative purpose, in a child, and encourage it into strong growth. We could save many a worthwhile youth, if we could help him this way.

Teachers do not have the necessary time and equipment in school for such work. Few parents have either the time or the understanding necessary for it. Did you ever see a gardener hovering over a seed tray, watching for the first sprout, measuring the temperature, the moisture, the light; watching for the precise moment for transplanting, watering, shading or sunning; watching for when things broke just right, wringing his hands over an hour's check? It is like that with the growth of children.

There is a time when interest must be caught or lost. There is a time when praise must be given in full. A time for discipline and a time for relief. A time for offering opportunity and a time for using it. If we lose that occasion, we lose it. That is one side of the story. But there is another. Intelligence in school subjects is not the whole of a child's being. His other qualities may overbalance it. One must take the child one has, regardless of test records. There is so much no test ever touches.

Mr. Patrisi will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

YESTERDAY: Buff finally succeeds in starving out the disagreeable Hunts. Just as they leave Maudie May bares Tim's secret. She says he is the man Iris DeMuth tricked into buying a worthless silver mine.

Chapter Nine GEORGE'S STORY At the Hunt's drove off, Tim was very white and his big hands were shaking.

"It's true," he said presently. "Every word of it's true. Buff! Now you know the kind of person I am!" He rose to his feet and went upstairs, before she could answer.

Buff sat where she was for a long time. She heard Webby stirring in the kitchen and thought vaguely that a good dinner would help the entire household; but above every other sensation she was conscious of pity for Tim Collins. The bald little story had held glimpses of tragedy which had been underlined and made acute by the look of suffering on Tim's face.

After a time she went into the kitchen. Mrs. Webb was furiously busy. Something gave off savory odor from the big range oven. A couple of boiled chickens were on the table. The fat housekeeper was creaming butter and sugar in a bowl.

"A nice state you left my kitchen in Miss Buff!" she said severely. "And if the stuff that was left on the table is a sample of what you gave those poor Hunts to eat, I don't wonder they left. Lumbago! I suppose you and Mr. Tim had your reasons, and after all I'm getting paid to do what I'm told; but laying in bed without good nourishment food didn't do me any good and I should say it hadn't helped you either, by the looks of you!"

Buff wandered about for another hour. When she heard the sound of a car approaching she strolled down to meet it. George Weekes stopped and grinned at her.

"Here again," she says. "Wonder how much longer that guy is going to keep on coming?"

"It happens I'm extra glad to see you today," Her tone was sober. "And I'd like to take you before you see Tim. Suppose you drive under those pines and let's confer a bit. Okay?"

"And then some," he agreed heartily. He steered his car under the clump of trees which marked the boundary of the ranch. "Tim not so well, or is it these Hunts he called me about?"

"Both, in a way. The Hunts left right after lunch—a fleeting smile touched her mouth as the recollection of that meal—but not before the daughter had—had spilled the beans about Tim."

He frowned. "How d'you mean—spilled the beans?"

She told him briefly of Maudie May's accusations. "Tim said it was all true, and more. Then he shut himself up in his room. I think you'd better tell me all about it, George."

"I suppose so. Poor old Tim! Where shall I begin?"

"With—the girl, Iris DeMuth, isn't that her name?"

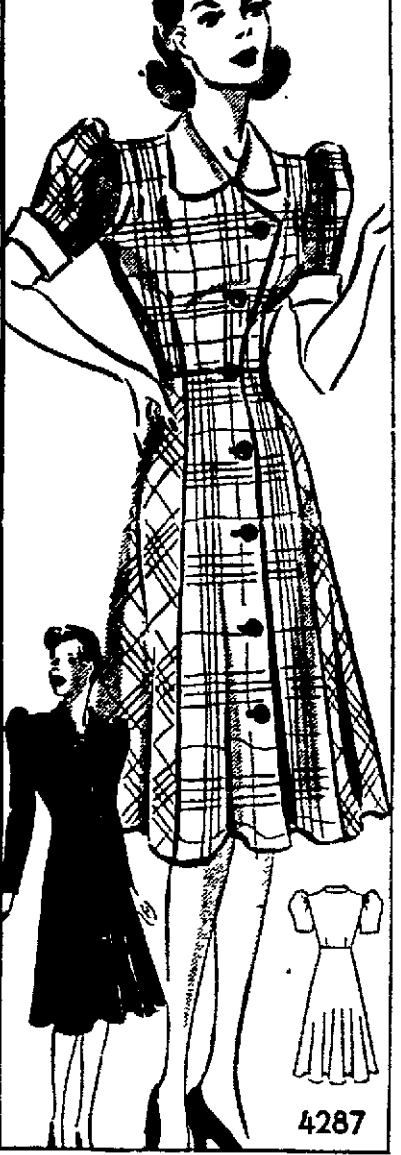

"That's her name. She blew into Boulder one fine day and dropped into our office. Had some ore specimens she wanted assayed. For silver. Silver in 'em all right—plenty of it. Tetrachloride."

"Don't waste time being technical," she commanded. "Where did she get the ore?"

"From a mint she owned up in the mountains. Oh, she owned it all right. I looked it up, of course."

After several weeks the pots of mayall's bulbs can be placed in the living-room, watered very mildly at the start, and brought to the light and heat gradually, as more and more water is given. When the plant shows a desire to make growth, it is well to supplement the waterings with some form of liquid manure. The fluid prepared from cow manure holds first rank among mayall's finders.

BUTTON-FRONT

BY ANNE ADAMS Just what do you look for in a housedress? You want something neat and trim, quick to put on and take off. In other words, an apt description of Anne Adams Pattern 4287! This style attractively buttons all down the front for speedy donning and flat-front ironing. See the flattering line the neck makes as it crosses over! You'll like the smooth-fitting, beltless waist and the smart, bias-cut side skirt panels. Make a nicely shaped collar in crisp white, perhaps with cuffs to match on the short-sleeved style. Or use long sleeves and a self-fabric collar for a working frock.

Pattern 4287 is available in misses' and women's sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 4 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 1/4 yard contrast.

TWO YOUNG WOMEN ALONE IN A BIG CITY Dear Mrs. Post: We are two young women (in the early thirties) and are planning to go to New York for a week. We have no men friends in New York and we would like to see as much of city life as we can, including going to the plays and to one or two of the night clubs. May we wear formal evening clothes to the theater, or would it be in bad taste, since we are without men?

Answer: You can perfectly well go to the theater without men. Wear afternoon dresses without hats, or very simple evening dresses. You could also stop in the supper room of the hotel where you are staying for something to eat after the theater, even though people begin to come in for dancing while you are still there. But you could not possibly go to a night club in the strict meaning of that word. In fact, I doubt if smartest clubs would admit women alone.

WHO TAKES PLACE OF GROOM'S MOTHER AT WEDDING? Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancée's mother died many years ago, and so now I am wondering if it would be proper for me to ask his favorite aunt (his mother's sister) to stand in the receiving line with my mother. This aunt took care of my fiancée during the early years of his life. All in all, I think it would be a very thoughtful gesture, and I hope you will agree.

Answer: Certainly it will be proper to ask his aunt!

A WEDDING PROBLEM TROUBLEING MANY BRIDES Dear Mrs. Post: I have always wanted to wear real bride's clothes and be married in church and have all our friends and relatives there. I want to be sure it is all right for my parents to send five hundred invitations to the church and not give a reception after the wedding.

Answer: This would be quite all right.

Good Taste Today By Emily Post

OBLIGATIONS Dear Mrs. Post: I have just recently married, and my husband is the pastor of a large congregation. When he performs a wedding ceremony, and both he and I are invited to the reception afterward, are we expected to give them a wedding present? Judging from the number of weddings in the short time I've been here, it is certainly going to be a drain on our pocketbook if we must continue to buy presents each time. However, if it is customary, of course we will do it. Also, would it make any difference if only my husband were invited to the reception?

Answer: It is never expected that a clergyman and his wife (still less a clergyman alone) give a wedding present to every member of his parish. To a member of their own family or a very intimate friend,

Clapper Urges Scrutiny of War Relief Fund Campaigns

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
Washington—The makings of a bad smelling mess are piling up through the state department's casual handling of registrations for mushroom organizations which want to collect funds for relief of European war victims.

Under the law such money-raising organizations must have the approval of the state government. Promoters have been rushing in to obtain their certificates in such numbers that no real investigation is possible to determine whether they are responsible or whether they are racketeers. Since Germany invaded Poland, the state department has approved some 80 organizations for relief in Poland. In all, it has issued certificates to 128 organizations—22 of them within the last 10 days.

If some bright boys do not take advantage of the situation to organize relief rackets, it will be a miracle. In the world war period, only about one out of 10 money-raising schemes was found legitimate. Out of some 3,000 money-raising appeals, which involved upwards of a billion dollars, only 300 were found worthy, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker set up an advisory board of prominent citizens, with long experience in philanthropy, and applications were investigated. Ninety per cent were found unworthy and were prevented from imposing upon the public.

A group of citizens, some of whom had a part in that work, have appealed to Secretary Hull and other state department officials to tighten up their scrutiny of relief drive applications before a national scandal develops. They have urged that he follow the precedent of Newton D. Baker and create an advisory committee of responsible and competent citizens to investigate the relief fund organizations and separate the legitimate ones from the rackets. It is represented that such an advisory board could do the job more appropriately than the state department or other official body.

Once started, they're difficult to curb. The state department is proceeding on the policy of giving the organizations the benefit of the doubt, with the right to revoke registration if anything irregular shows up later. Two objections are made to this policy. One is that, after an organization is launched, it cannot be repudiated without inflicting considerable embarrassment, especially if, as usually is the case, it has enlisted the sponsorship of a few prominent and well-meaning but gullible persons.

Second objection is that, once money has been collected, it will take more than revocation of a state department permit to restore the money to the contributors.

For more than 40 years, important cities have had committees of charity endorsement to review appeals in their communities and thus not only conserve charitable resources for useful purposes but protect citizens from unworthy appeals. The same procedure is urged upon the state department now by a number of prominent persons.

Will Lead to Confusion

Some who are interested in relief for Jews in Europe fear that the multiplicity of organizations growing up will lead to confusion and ineffectiveness, aside from the funds which racketeers make away with under cover of the relief activities. One highly reputable figure has pointed out that, in the present situation in Poland, it will be difficult to keep relief funds and supplies from falling into Nazi or Soviet hands and, until facilities are arranged, the sending of relief to Poland is likely to prove futile.

Creation of an advisory board of review is desirable, not only to suppress racketeering, but also to maintain public confidence in those legitimate organizations which are entitled to and need full public support. Millions of dollars will be needed for European relief. A few days ago Herbert Hoover endorsed a $10,000,000 drive for Polish relief. The success of reputable and necessary undertakings requires the elimination of all spurious organizations which seek to racketeer at the expense of human misery.

Republicans to Hold Rally at Manitowoc

Senator Alexander Wiley and Congressman Joshua L. Johns will be the principal speakers at a banquet and rally of Manitowoc county Republicans on Armistice day at the new armory at Manitowoc. The rally will open with a banquet at 6:30 in the evening. Edward Kelly, member of the tax commission, is chairman of the entertainment committee. Mrs. Glen Brandt is in charge of the banquet, and Harry Koston, two Rivers, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Dr. C. L. Kolb, Outagamie county Republican chairman, said a delegation of party members of this country will attend the rally.

Wet Leaves Make Motoring Hazard

Rank With Ice and Water As Skid Producer, Bureau Reports

Falling leaves are not the only fall motoring hazard, but they account for many accidents that could easily have been avoided, the National Conservation bureau points out. Police Chief George T. Prim has urged motorists to use caution driving on city streets when they are wet because of the slippery condition caused by fallen leaves.

While the actual number of accidents attributable to this single cause is not known, it is estimated that last year 1,620 persons met death and 46,000 received injuries from skidding motor vehicles. Wet surfaces, wet leaves on the road, snow and ice all contributed to the high number of skidding mishaps.

While the motorist driving on snow or ice is likely to be well prepared with chains and to exercise more than normal care, he often fails to use caution when going over leaves because they do not seem to present as hazardous a condition, the safety men assert. Again, while the average motorist will proceed slowly if the road is coated with snow or ice, he will tend to drive over leaves at the pace he usually follows when the surface is clear.

For that reason accidents caused by skidding on wet leaves may be more serious than other skidding accidents.

It is also held significant that accidents due to skidding are more prevalent in rural than in urban areas—and it is in the country that the danger from fallen leaves is greater.

The most practical thing for the fall motorist to do, the bureau suggests, is to acquire the habit of slowing down when leaves are ahead on the road, particularly on curves. Another hint is to avoid sudden acceleration or sudden brake applications on leaf-covered stretches.

Public Views Hitler Peace Proposals as Settling No Basic Issues, Survey Finds

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J.—Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech October 6, in which he said that since the Polish question was ended the Allies had no further reason for fighting Germany, did not settle Europe's war issue so far as American public opinion is concerned. The overwhelming majority of voters in a fact-finding survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion say they do not agree with the German government that the extinction of Poland removed the causes for war.

The survey was begun immediately after Hitler's speech, and the interviewing was completed before Premier Daladier of France and Prime Minister Chamberlain of England had made their replies respecting Hitler's peace terms. Throughout the United States, interviewers for the Institute put this issue to a scientifically selected cross-section of all voters:

"Hitler says that the Polish question is settled and England and France have no reason to continue the war with Germany. Do you agree?"

Yes ..... 14%
No ..... 86%

Approximately one voter in every 8 (13 per cent) had no opinion on the issue.

The survey measures only the attitude toward Hitler's statement and is not a measurement of how many Americans want the war to continue or whether majority sentiment in this country believes England and France justified in continuing the war.

Disagreement with Hitler's statement runs uniformly through the various income groups, age levels and geographical areas in the nation. The section most inclined to agree with the statement, according to the survey note, is New England, but even there only 20 per cent say they think there is no further cause for war, while 80 per cent disagree.

Hitlerism Called The Real Issue

In explaining the reason for this attitude, voters who disagree with Hitler about the Polish question stress, chiefly, that other issues besides Poland are the important issues. They list "Hitlerism" as the main issue and add comments of which the following are typical:

"Hitler cannot be trusted." "Hitler will always be a threat to world peace." "Germany would like to make peace in order to make war later on."

Among those voters who think that the Allies have no cause now for fighting, the general tenor of sentiment is that the treaty of Versailles was so harsh on Germany that she is justified in trying to regain her place in the world, that it is better to let Hitler "get away" with a small land-grab than to plunge the world into war, and finally, that "England has been grabbing for the last thousand years and nobody has said anything."

'Town's Business 50 Years Ago' Provides Theme for Meeting Of Professional Women's Club

A PEEK into the Crystal room of Conway hotel early last evening while Appleton Business and Professional Women's club was having its dinner and meeting might have given the casual visitor an idea that he had somehow got into the wrong century, for kerosene lamps on the tables provided the only light, large bowls of fruit took the place of the usual floral centerpieces, and many of the club members were dressed in gowns which were in vogue 50 years ago.

The theme of the meeting was "Our Town's Business 50 Years Ago," and the committee attempted to carry out the idea in decorations, dinner and mode of serving the guests as well as in the program.

When the women sat down at the tables they found the plates and glasses turned over, in the manner of many years ago, and when dinner began they helped themselves to meat, potatoes and vegetables from huge platters and dishes set in the middle of the tables. Pie was passed around in the pan and each helped herself to dessert.

B'nai B'rith Pays Tribute To Mundelein

TRIBUTE was paid to the late George Cardinal Mundelein by Fox River lodge, No. 209, B'nai B'rith, in a memorial resolution passed at the meeting of the lodge last night in the social center of Moses Montefiore synagogue. The memorial referred to the late Cardinal as "a champion of the sacred rights and liberty of all people and a spiritual leader who personified justice, tolerance and mutual good will."

A delegation was named to attend the Upper Wisconsin council meeting of B'nai B'rith Nov. 12 at Green Bay. It includes Jack Kalman, A. J. Cohen, Edward Bahall, Abe Hamilton and William I. Chudacoff. The committee in charge of organizing a junior chapter of A.Z.A. reported that a meeting of boys to form a junior group will be held within 10 days, at which time Bernard Holman, Sheboygan, will be present to assist in the organization.

Plans were discussed for staging a minstrel show the middle of December under the direction of Sam Belinke. The program committee plans to bring special speakers to Appleton during the winter for several programs which will be open to the public. Fifty-five members were present last evening.

Odd Fellows will sponsor a harvest supper at 6:30 the evening of Oct. 25 at Odd Fellow hall. George Jackson will be chairman. Deborah Rebekah lodge will present a 1-act play.

A Halloween dance will be given Friday night at the hall.

The semi-annual meeting of past high priestesses of Valley Shrine will take place Friday evening with a dinner at 6:30 at Candle Glow tea room. Mrs. L. M. Schindler and Miss Etola Gorrow will be hostesses and cards will be played during the evening.

Maxine Schalk Hostess To A.A.U.W. Juniors

In place of an outside lecturer, members of the organization themselves did the speaking at the monthly meeting of the junior division of the Appleton branch of the American Association of University Women Tuesday night at the home of Miss Maxine Schalk, 300 Congress street.

Miss Eda Nihlen, technical assistant at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, showed movies of her work; Mrs. Abbott Byfield spoke of her career, home-making; and Miss Morica Cooney discussed her work, teaching.

Dr. Lincoln R. Thiesmeyer, assistant professor of geology at Lawrence college, will speak at the Nov. 21 meeting of the organization.

Schenck, Mrs. E. W. Shannon and Miss Anna Losly. Others in costume were Miss Lynda Hollenbeck, chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. Nancy Thomas, chairman of the public affairs committee, who with Miss Lillie were in charge of arrangements.

Describing Appleton as it was 50 years ago, Dr. William F. Raney, professor of English and European history at Lawrence college, the speaker of the evening, pointed out that Appleton residents should feel grateful for what the men of half a century ago accomplished, stating that each generation erects buildings and founds institutions which outlast that generation.

Going back to 1889 when A. H. Leving was mayor, Dr. Raney told of the population of 14,000, of the city's six wards and council of twelve men. That year a system of electric fire alarm was installed, he said, the city's water supply was furnished by a private company and the city council seemed to be permanently disinterested in the amount and quality of the water provided. That year also the county board purchased a farm and on it began the erection of buildings for the county asylum for the chronic insane.

Silo Was News
The farmers of Outagamie county, 50 years ago raised more wheat than they do today, the speaker said, but they had begun to diversify their products. It was news when a farmer near Kaukauna built a silo, filled it and found in the spring that the ensilage really made good feed for cattle. The raising of heavy draft horses was one of the popular forms of farming, he said, and one Appleton firm that bought such animals for shipment not long after 1889 did a business of over $200,000 a year, while veterinarians had a good patronage. Farmers cut a good deal of wood for fuel and sold it in the market square in Appleton or hauled it to the blast furnaces just southeast of the Lave street bridge.

Dr. Raney went on to say that some logs were still sawed into lumber in the mills at Appleton, but by that time the paper industry was coming into great prominence than either the flour or grist mills or the lumber mills. The present building of the Congregational church was finished in the spring of 1889, he continued, at a cost of about $37,000.

The Caledonians, the Hibernians and numerous other lodges and fraternal bodies held frequent meetings, and there were societies and newspapers intended to perpetuate German culture and speech. Among the city's leading citizens who were natives of Germany the speaker mentioned Herman Erb, Sr., whose son was mayor from 1897 to 1899, and Gerhard T. Moeskes who was admitted to the bar at the age of 38 and five years later in 1889 began 12 years' service as county judge.

New Members
Three new members were taken into the club at last night's meeting, namely, Miss Barbara Fulton, Miss Myrtle Harris and Mrs. Elyn Beck. Plans were announced for a progressive card party Oct. 27 to be held at the homes of Miss Maxine Cahall, 311 E. North street; Miss Lucille Lillie, 510 E. Pacific street; Miss Eda Bushey, 608 E. Pacific street; and Mrs. E. W. Shannon, 844 E. South street.

For the next meeting Nov. 21 Miss Almere Scott, director of the department of debating and public discussion for the University of Wisconsin extension division will speak on "Women's Clubs and Public Opinion." Miss Myrtle Van Ryzin will be chairman.

BETWEEN DANCES AT JUNIOR CHAMBER MILK FUND PARTY

Some of the members of the committee who planned the milk fund benefit harvest party of Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at Conway hotel are shown resting between dances and the special stunts which were a feature of the party. They are, left to right, Thomas Long, Jr., Mrs. Dora Schuler, Mrs. C. A. Shannon, Mr. Shannon, Miss Dolores Tews and Mert LeVan. Others on the committee were Harvey Sackett, Edward Verbrick, Stanley Gross, Harold Stout, Harold Van Bussum, Lee Rosholt and Wilmer Gruett. Eighty couples attended and between dances the guests took part in a stunt in which the women sewed patches on the men's trousers and participated in a contest for drinking milk from a baby's bottle. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Lohar Kemp, Mrs. Jack Kirk, Mrs. Max Kneip, Everett Stecker and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz. The next party will be around Thanksgiving. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Chilton Couple Married in Ceremony at Catholic Church

MISS LORRAINE MINAHAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Minahan, Chilton, and James Oberbiller, Jr., son of James Oberbiller, Chilton, were united in marriage at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Augustine church in Chilton. The Rev. Henry Vandecastle read the nuptial mass. The bride is a graduate of St. Augustine Parochial school and the Chilton High school. For the last year and a half she has been employed at the Commonwealth Telephone company. The bridegroom is also a graduate of St. Augustine Parochial school and the Chilton High school and is employed at the C-Z store in Chilton.

Miss Margaret Becklem was bridesmaid and Joseph Harlow attended the bridegroom. William Dawson and Robert Petrie were the ushers.

Dinner for the immediate families was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. This afternoon a reception for relatives and friends is being held at the bride's home. The young couple will be at home at 118 Manhattan street in Chilton. A wedding dance will be held Oct. 27 at the Eagle hall in Chilton.

Deschane-Hansen
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Comee, Jr., Appleton were best man and matron of honor at the wedding of Miss Myra Deschane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Deschane, and Henry G. Hansen, son of H. A. Hansen, all of Green Bay, Monday morning in the parsonage of St. Willebrord's church at Green Bay. The Rev. James Wagner performed the ceremony. The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's academy in Green Bay and the bridegroom of the University of Wisconsin.

Loos-Kiltzke
Miss Ruth Loos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Loos, route 2, Shiocton, and Eldon Kiltzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kiltzke, route 1, Hortonville, were married at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the parsonage of the Ellington Lutheran church, the Rev. Emil Redlin performing the ceremony. Attendants were Miss Dorothy Conradt, cousin of the bride, and Lawrence Kiltzke, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for about 25 guests, and a dance was given in the evening at the Silver Dome pavilion, Greenville.

The couple will reside with the bride's parents for the present.

Graf-Greely
The marriage of Miss Leona Graf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Graf, Clintonville, to Marvin Greely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sewell F. Greely, Leeman, was solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Rose Catholic church in Clintonville. The Rev. Nicholas Dieckhoff performed the ceremony and the children's choir sang during the nuptial mass. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Flaeger, the latter being the bride's sister.

A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the home of the bride's parents on E. Seventh street. There was a wedding dance Tuesday evening at Hazens pavilion at Leeman. Mr. and Mrs. Greely will reside on a farm in the town of Maine.

Declain-Green
Miss Frances Declain, route 2, Seymour, became the bride of Roger Green, son of Mrs. Amy Green, route 2, Seymour, in a ceremony performed last Thursday in the parsonage of the Seymour Evangelical church by the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt.

Mission Head Will Speak at Church Sunday

THE Rev. Isadore Schwartz, missionary pastor of Emmanuel Hebrew Lutheran mission in Chicago, will be guest speaker at an English mission festival service at 9:30 Sunday morning at St. Matthew Lutheran church. He will discuss the Jewish problem in Europe and America. At 7:30 Sunday evening he will preach at Trinity Lutheran church in Menasha.

A native of Jassy, Roumania, the Rev. Mr. Schwartz attended a rabbinical school there. Because of conditions there he came to America to continue his studies, and after several years training in the Lutheran church he was ordained into the Lutheran ministry.

Junior Catholic Youth Organization of St. Mary church decided to change its meeting night from the first and third Tuesdays of each month, at a meeting last night at Columbia hall. The meetings will be held at 7:30, preceding the weekly dance for young people at Columbia hall.

Sixty-five members attended the meeting Tuesday night. Topics were given as follows: "Save America First" Thomas Letter; "Loyola of the South" Thomas Flawley; "The Drive Against Lewd Literature" Mary McKenzie; "Democracy Based on Christianity" Virginia Schuh; "Don't Be a Weak Sister" Gertrude McMahon.

The Ladies' society of Zion Lutheran church will have a social gathering at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the parish school auditorium. The hostess committee consists of Mrs. Henry Bastjan, Mrs. Marie Beske, Mrs. John Bartels, Mrs. Emily Burmeister, Mrs. Augusta Brown and Mrs. Augusta Buske.

Mr. and Mrs. club of First Congregational church has decided to postpone its party scheduled for Friday night to Oct. 27 because of conflicting dates. The event will be in the nature of a Halloween party and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Elsner are co-chairmen of the committee in charge.

A retreat for all young people of St. Theresa church will be held Oct. 29 through Nov. 1 at the church. The Rev. R. P. Wagner, O. Praem., of St. Norbert college, West DePere, will conduct the retreat.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker at St. Matthew Lutheran church Sunday morning and at Trinity Lutheran church, Menasha, in the evening will be the Rev. Isadore Schwartz, above, missionary pastor of Emmanuel Hebrew Lutheran mission in Chicago. He will preach on the Jewish problem in Europe and America.

Missionary Describes Her Work in India

THE life of a missionary in Burma was outlined by Mrs. Ola Hanson, retired missionary who with her late husband lived and worked in Burma for many years, in an address Tuesday evening at First Baptist church. Mrs. Hanson's husband translated the Bible into the Kachin language while working there. About 50 persons heard the talk.

Service Bell circle served a baked bean supper preceding the missionary address. About 150 persons were present. Mrs. C. T. Elias is captain of the circle.

Mrs. J. P. Plank read articles from several magazines at the meeting of Temple Sisterhood which followed a luncheon at her home, 228 N. Park avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Fourteen members were present. The next meeting will be Nov. 7 at the home of Mrs. Jennie Hammill, Union street.

Mrs. John W. Wilson and Mrs. John F. Stuckert presented a program taken from the study book, "Women of the Way," and Mrs. T. E. Orison spoke of children's books which are being used in missionary study at the meeting of Circle 1 of First Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at Candle Glow tea room. The meeting followed a luncheon at which Mrs. Henry Behnke and Mrs. William Thiede were hostesses. The next meeting will be Nov. 21 when Mrs. A. J. Ingold and Mrs. H. C. Humphrey will be hostesses.

An autumn program was given at the luncheon meeting of Circle 3, the music circle of First Congregational church, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Reinbeck, 215 N. Oneida street. Mrs. Alex Young played three piano solos, Mrs. F. H. Hammond read several of Paul Dunbar's poems and gave Italian dialect readings. Mrs. Lacey Horton sang two solos and Mrs. W. H. Krois played two MacDowell selections.

Fifty members of Monte Alverno Retreat House guild and league held a joint pot-luck and canned food shower for the retreat house Tuesday evening. Following benediction and individual business meetings a joint social hour was held and prizes won at contract bridge by Mrs. William Ferron and Mrs. William Geenen, at auction by Mrs. Joseph Weber and Miss Marie Lewandowski and at schafkopf by Mrs. Ben Beschta and Miss Magdolene Kohl. There will be a pot-luck supper before the next meeting also.

Warren Beck, professor of English at Lawrence college, will speak on "The Adventures of the Young Man" by John Dos Passos at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at First Congregational church. This is one of a series of lectures being sponsored by Circles 1 and 2 of the church.

Mansfield to Show U. of W. Movies at Meeting of Alumni

Arthur Mansfield, head football coach and instructor in physical education at the University of Wisconsin, will be here to give the running commentary on the football game pictures which will be shown as part of the program at the fall dinner meeting of the Wisconsin Alumni association Tuesday night, Oct. 31, at the Conway hotel. In addition to his other work, Mansfield is also assistant freshman football coach. The football movie will be one taken at one of this fall's games at the university athletic department.

John Walsh, coach of the university's boxing team, will be the principal speaker at the meeting. Mrs. Walter Brummund is chairman of the invitations committee for the dinner, and she and a committee of assistants are calling alumni to remind them of the date. Since their list is not complete, however, the committee has announced that the dinner and program are open to anyone who attended the University of Wisconsin, as well as to their wives or husbands. Other alumni clubs of the Fox River valley also will be invited to attend the meeting.

APPEAR IN 'DANCING COED'

Imagine Shaw and his band in nineteen of his inimitable swing presentations. Think of Lana Turner in three sensational dance specialties, and June Preisler, the little sensation of recent Ziegfeld follies, doing her terpsichorean stuff. Then there are Les Bowman, Thurston Hall, Leon Errol, Roscoe Karns, Mary Field and Walter Kingsford. A comedy cast if there ever was one! Add to this two hundred jitters, personally selected by Artie Shaw, and you have a vague idea of what to expect in "DANCING CO-ED," which is coming to the Appleton Theatre starting Saturday, October 21. It's a swell story, based on Albert Treynor's magazine yarn of the same name. But first and foremost, it has Artie Shaw in a featured role for the first time, with none other than that burn-haired whirlwind, Lana Turner, in another knockout role.

Also featured on the same program will be Jane Withers in "Pack Up Your Troubles," with the Ritz Brothers.

Century Club Opens Social Season With Dinner-Dance

MORE than 100 persons attended the Appleton Century club's first dinner-dance of the season Tuesday night at River-view Country club. Lighted pumpkins on the tables, and cornucopias and fall leaves in the ballroom gave a typically autumn flavor to the affair. Among those who entertained at cocktail parties before the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCornison and Mr. and Mrs. Potter Park. An out-of-town guests in the McCornison party was Mrs. Robert L. Heustis, Los Angeles, Mrs. McCornison's sister. The club's next dance will be a Christmas party, the date not yet announced.

Church Workers at St. Joseph's Feted At Banquet, Party

In appreciation of their services during the year the members of St. Joseph's choir, cemetery board, ushers, janitors and Sunday morning traffic directors were guests, together with their wives and husbands, at a banquet last evening at St. Joseph's hall given by the parish. The Rev. Cyprian Abler, O. M. Cap. pastor, gave a brief address thanking the various workers and responses were given by Prof. A. J. Theiss, choir director; William Konrad, president of the ushers; and Frank Groh, chairman of the cemetery board.

John Kampe, honorary usher who was an usher for 25 years, and Mrs. Kampe were guests of honor. About 140 persons attended the event. Father Cyprian gave the opening prayer and the group sang "America." Ruby and Mabel Loose gave a tap dance-duet accompanied by Appleton Civic Symphony orchestra which played during the dinner and afterwards, and the two dancers gave solo numbers. Also Dr. R. J. Finkle, Seymour, entertained with a program of magic and sleight-of-hand acts. Community singing took place. Fall colors were used in the table and hall decorations.

Cards were played after the dinner, prizes going to the Rev. Father Ivan, O. M. Cap., Joseph A. Kohl, George Haag, Jake Zimmer, Ray Lang, Mrs. Henry Williamsen, Mrs. Ed Reider, Joseph J. Plank, Carl Fose, R. T. Gage, Ervin Schueler and Mrs. A. J. Theiss.

Vary French dressings with fruit juices. For instance a mixture of lime, lemon and orange, or grapefruit, lemon and pineapple, mixed with French dressing, gives a delightful new flavor to any fruit salad combination.

Lawrence Faculty Member Is Married

When Roger Sherman, instructor in fine arts at Lawrence college, returned to Appleton this fall to resume his work here, he brought with him a bride, the former Miss Susanne Ketchum, daughter of Mr. Bonnie Ketchum of Greensboro, N. C., and Eau Claire, Wis.

The marriage took place June 10 at Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Greensboro. Mr. Sherman and his bride spent the summer at Provincetown, Mass., where he did designing for the Wharf theater. They are now residing in an apartment at 109 Soldiers square.

Mrs. Sherman attended the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina and then studied for two years at Yale, returning to North Carolina to teach at the Woman's college. Mr. Sherman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sherman, Providence, R. I., attended the Vesper George Art school, Boston, and studied for three years at Yale university. He joined the Lawrence faculty last year.

Waupaca Girl Will be Married in November

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Nusz, Waupaca, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, to Alan Lloyd Mortimer, Madison, son of Mrs. Frank R. Mortimer, Owen, Wis. The wedding will take place at 11 o'clock the morning of Nov. 4 at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Waupaca. Miss Nusz attended the Madison Business college and her fiancé attended the University of Wisconsin.

Congregational Pastor To Speak at Green Bay

Dr. John B. Hanna, pastor of First Congregational church, will give an address this evening at the Union Congregational College of Life at Green Bay. His subject will be "Is Neutrality Possible?" His talk will be before the class on Christianity and the Modern World.

Miss Ida Becher, 311 S. Locust street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night at her home for Miss Lylas Schmit, who will be married Oct. 28 to Ralph Haase. The evening was spent playing court whist, and prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Buxton, Menasha. Mrs. Robert Vandervelden and Mrs. Marvin Schmit, Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fumal, 1033 W. Spencer street, entertained at a post-nuptial shower Saturday night in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fumal, who were married Sept. 25 at Menominee. Miss Lylas Schmit, formerly Miss Alice Schwalbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwalbach, route 1, Appleton.

About 45 relatives and friends were present and prizes at cards were won by Gilbert Reinke, Robert Rickert, Mrs. Reinke and Mrs. Harry Plamann. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Reinke, Neenah; Miss Ethel Fumal, Delmar; Mrs. Joseph Rickert and son, Freedom; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plamann, William Caliebe and Ervin Caliebe, Five Corners.

400 Persons Hear Talk By Native of Holy Land

Four hundred persons heard the talk and witnessed the colored movies of the Holy Land shown by Stephen A. Haboush, native Galilean shepherd, last night at First English Lutheran church. Mr. Haboush, who was assisted by his wife in putting on the program, appeared in native costume as did Madame Haboush, and he showed movies in natural color of Jerusalem, the river Jordan and Galilee and other places mentioned prominently in the Biblical story of the life of Christ. The program was sponsored by the Sunday school.

A bicycle owned by Robert Otto, 1042 W. Fifth street, was stolen last evening from near the St. Joseph's school. The license number is 1022. Police are investigating.

Filtration Plant At Bergstrom Co. Nears Completion

$10,000 Building at Paper Company Will be Finished in 2 Weeks

Neenah—Construction of the $10,000 flocculator and clarifier building at the Bergstrom Paper company, 225 W. Wisconsin avenue, will be completed in two weeks, according to Walter Schreiber, superintendent for the Fluor Bros. Construction company, Oshkosh, general contractors.

Water from the canal and Fox river enters this building and the flocculator and clarifier conducts the first treatment of the filtration system. The equipment has been in operation since August, although construction of the superstructure of the building didn't get underway until about the first of September.

The building is 80 by 52 feet and it is constructed of brick, steel and concrete. The portion of the building which contains the clarifier is only one story high, while the other portion, under which is the flocculator, is two stories high and it will contain the company's laboratory.

The 2-story portion of the structure is 52 feet square and 34 feet high. It was built of roof material.

There are 20 men working on the red brick structure which is located between the boiler building and the plant and directly behind the office building off W. Wisconsin avenue.

The design of construction is similar to the boiler room, except that glass block windows instead of sash have been installed.

Students Publish School Newspaper

Butte des Morts Pupils Write and Illustrate 23-Page Edition

Neenah—The first issue of "Butte des Morts News," a mimeographed newspaper published by the students of Butte des Morts grade school, has been prepared for distribution. The paper has 23 pages and each section is introduced by a full-page drawing.

The paper will be published three times during the school year. It was typed and mimeographed by Miss Virginia Jensen, secretary at the high school office.

Suzanne Jensen is the editor of the publication. Departments in it include an editorial page, school news, society section, sports section, advertising section, jokes and a magazine section. The last two are full of contributions from the students of all grades. Visits to the Neenah fire station, poems, news of the book clubs, and other items concerning the school have been written by the students of the various grades.

Members of the newspaper staff are cartooned on a musical staff with a face filled in for each member on a musical note. Members of the staff in addition to the editor, include Patsy Verbrick, Arlene Bispig, Marilyn Grode, Tommy Geibel, Marvin Lomson, Carlton Williams, Duane Protheroe, DeLores Kohler, Betty Springborn, Jean Getschow.

Marjorie Galau, Jean Doepe, Carol Gear, Hilton Miller, Earl Warner, Roger Schommer, Tommy Potter, Frances Destache, Kate Dorow, Glenn Hueth, Catherine Baker, Mollie Mayers, Carl Rowe, Clarence Rhoades, Donald Berrens and Fred Flenz.

Council Will Vote on Proposed U-Turn Law

Neenah—The city council will vote on the proposed ordinance prohibiting U-turns on E. and W. Wisconsin avenues from the Chicago and North Western tracks to the intersection of Main street when it meets at 7:30 Wednesday evening at the city hall.

At the last session the council voted to authorize City Attorney John W. O'Leary to draw the ordinance of which Alderman Robert Martens is the proponent.

The committee on traffic and safety also will make a report on parking limits on Commercial street. The time limit on Commercial street is 45 minutes in Wisconsin and two hours on Wisconsin avenue, it was pointed out at the last meeting. The committee, of which Alderman Harvey Nash is chairman, met this week to conduct the investigation.

Scarlet Fever Cases Reported at Menasha

Menasha—Four cases of scarlet fever are present in Menasha, according to H. O. Haugh, city health officer. However, only two homes are under quarantine for there are three cases in one family and one in another. Outside of the scarlet fever, the city is relatively free from contagion.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and display advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street, and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for display advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or telephoned. Orders for classified advertising should be placed by telephoning 543 in Appleton, and the cost of the telephone call will be rebated. The Twin Cities office closes at 7 o'clock in the evening.

FAMILY MOVES TO NEENAH FROM CALIFORNIA

Neenah—Wisconsin's preliminary to winter greets Mrs. Cella Harding and her son Allan, who have come to Wisconsin to make their home in Neenah after living for many years in San Mateo, Calif. for fall weather is far different than "summer" weather of the west coast. Shown in the above picture are Allan, Mrs. Harding and her sister, Mrs. Harry Foster at whose home at 634 Higgins avenue, she is visiting until her home on Washington avenue is ready. Mrs. Harding hasn't been in Wisconsin for 15 years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bismark Wiechman, High Cliff. (Post-Crescent Photo)

2:30 Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Louis Ellinger, Tayco street.

Missionary Circle of Trinity Lutheran church will meet at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the school hall.

St. Anne's society of St. Mary's Catholic church will meet at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the school hall.

St. Mary's Society of St. Anne entertained at an afternoon and evening card party in the school hall Tuesday. During the afternoon, honors went to Mrs. Theodore Beach, Mrs. John Lux and Mrs. Frank Spilski in schafkopf with Mrs. John Schneider winning the traveling prize, and to Mrs. Antonie Ganzky and Mrs. Ira Clough in bridge with Mrs. Clough also winning the traveling prize. Miss Genevieve Liebl won the guest award. Evening honors went to Mrs. Frank Stanak, A. J. Wilz, Harold Hanson, Mrs. A. Liebhauer and A. Dorzweiler in schafkopf, Joan Crawford in rummy, Kattie Gray and Lee Damps in whist, Mrs. John Orth and Mrs. C. Loeschner in bridge and W. Martell, John Becker, Frank Ruppel and Theodore Suess in skat. Marie McDaniel won the guest prize. Forty-one tables were in play with Mrs. Albert LaFond and Mrs. George Kronschnabel as chairman.

Wimodas Bridge club will meet at 2:30 Thursday afternoon in the Masonic hall. Mrs. Fred Krieger, Mrs. Joe Mazanetz and Mrs. Hubert Sherman will be hostesses.

Women's Catholic Foresters, St. Mary's court, will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening in the school hall. The court which usually meets the fourth Thursdays of each month, has advanced the meeting date because of the St. Mary parish bazaar next week.

Plans for a banquet Nov. 1, a nosebag bicycle hike to Hopfensperger's cottage Saturday, and a court of honor Tuesday, Oct. 24, were principal discussions at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Troop 1, Girl Scouts, in St. Thomas Episcopal parish house. Miss Lucille Rusch, captain of the troop, outlined the banquet program for the scouts and discussed outdoor tests which will be passed on the hike.

The Girl Scouts made plans for distributing two Thanksgiving baskets, one in Neenah and one in Menasha. Patrols will present menus and the two best ones will be selected to be used to guide the girls in buying foodstuffs for the baskets. Most of the girls will be ready for second class badges which will be distributed at the banquet, providing tests are passed successfully during the court of honor.

Office Keglers Take Foundry League Lead

NEENAH FOUNDRY LEAGUE

Office	13	5
Woodchucks	11	7
Snappers	10	8
Core Room	10	8
Cleaners	5	13
Sand Rats	5	13

Neenah—Office keglers of the Neenah Foundry league stepped into their first place Tuesday night when they swept three games from the Cleaners at the Hendy alleys. The Cleaners had games of 758, 742 and 689 for 2,189 while the Office team counted games of 811, 768 and 719 for a 2,298 series.

Core Room keglers took two from the Woodchucks. Marshke hit a 207 game and 550. Berendsen rolled 516 and Willie a 508 to pace the team to the high series of the night. The Core Room had games of 799, 840 and 921 for 2,560. Woodchucks hit games of 828, 808 and 817 for 2,451. Franz rolled a 522.

Pete a 508 and Schreck a 503. Snappers won two from the Sand Rats with L. Wilkes hitting the high scores of the league with a 217 game and 542 series. R. Schroeder added a 201 game and 539 series while E. Handy tied for high game with a 217 count and 532 series. The team had games of 821, 879 and 826 for 2,426 while the Sand Rats had games of 840, 805 and 753 for 2,398. Zitlow had a 516 for the losers.

That the Menasha council took time from its deliberations Tuesday night to have pictures taken for "Life in Neenah-Menasha," moving picture, to be shown in the Twin Cities this weekend. The camera operators drew a big laugh from the council and audience when they innocently asked, "Don't you ever have any heated arguments?" Mayor Jensen did tap the desk with the gavel in order to provide some action.

Madison Photographer Addresses Camera Club

Neenah—Composition in portraits was discussed by Frederick Kaeser, Madison photographer, at the regular meeting of the Winnebago Camera club last night at the Menasha Public Library.

Mr. Kaeser demonstrated the use of basic lighting and the adaptation of light to facial characteristics as well as building up lighting speciality suited to a person.

The club didn't hold a "print of the month" contest last night because of the address, but the picture which will appear on the November bulletin cover will be the winner of the prints submitted in the September contest.

Menasha Red Cross Members to Attend State Convention

Mrs. A. J. Hopfensperger To Lead Group Discussion at Madison

Neenah—Twelve members of the Menasha chapter of the American Red Cross will go to Madison Friday to attend the state meeting at which James L. Fieser Washington, D. C., will be the chief speaker.

Fieser is vice chairman in charge of all Red Cross operations in the United States.

Members of the Grey Ladies Service and ward captains and leaders for the roll call drive in Menasha will attend the meeting. Other members of the Menasha chapter also may attend.

Because of the outstanding record of the Menasha chapter of the Red Cross, Mrs. A. J. Hopfensperger, 300 Winnebago avenue, has been asked to lead the discussion at the group meeting at Madison Friday devoted to cities of 5,000 to 25,000.

Part of the Madison meeting will be devoted to making plans for the annual roll call drive which will be held throughout the state from Armistice day, Nov. 11, to Thanksgiving day, Nov. 30.

Last year, when Mrs. Hopfensperger was the drive chairman, enrollment in the Menasha chapter of the Red Cross reached 748, the high point since the World War Donations from 187 sources brought the total receipts to over $1,000. The goal this year has been set for 1,000 members.

Outstanding in State

The wide scope of activities undertaken by the Menasha chapter during the last year has centered attention on it as one of the outstanding in the state. The chapter rose from a rank of nineteenth in the state to tenth last year.

During the year the chapter sent two Menasha youths to aquatic school and helped to keep the Menasha High school swimming pool open during the summer. Over 5,000 men, women and children made use of the pool during the summer.

The chapter also was first in organizing the Gray Ladies Service and first with a production unit to prepare garments for war sufferers in Europe. The Gray Ladies Service has been active throughout the year while the production unit was organized in the last month in response to the appeals from Europe.

The chapter also assisted in the organization of classes in sewing and cooking, distributed clothing to needy families, and participated in the general health program in the city.

Mayor Breaks Tie Vote in Squabble Over Conventions

Refuses to Send Police Chief to Conclave With Expenses Paid

Menasha—Mayor W. H. Jensen broke a tie vote at the Menasha council session Tuesday night, refusing to send Police Chief Alex Slomski to the state convention of police chiefs at Milwaukee with expenses paid. Justification of having salaried city employees attend conventions with expenses paid was debated for nearly an hour by the mayor and aldermen at a previous council meeting and last night again drew lengthy debate.

Alderman Walter O'Brien started the discussion Tuesday night when he introduced a resolution authorizing the police chief to attend the convention with expenses paid. O'Brien had opposed convention attendance at two previous sessions of the council but as chairman of the council committee he introduced the measure, which was the recommendation of the police and fire commission.

John Pinkerton asked whether an itemized expense account was submitted following convention attendance. The mayor objected that no benefit was received from the conventions, declared that he had never received a satisfactory report yet, and termed conventions as "nothing but a good time."

Threatens Veto

The mayor declared that he didn't see how the city could afford to send anyone to the meetings. He also objected because other city officials are sent to meetings but only $25 is set aside for expenses of the mayor's office. He offered to run for mayor without compensation next year, if he should decide to be a candidate again, and threatened to veto the measure if the aldermen approved expenses for the chief.

Alderman Pinkerton was persuaded to withdraw his second to the first motion and O'Brien rephrased it to include acceptance of the fire and police commission report and authorization for the chief to attend the convention but at his own expense. Seven voted against the measure and only Karrow, DeBruin and O'Brien voted yes.

The aldermen then tried to decide the effect of that motion. DeBruin suggested that the matter be left as it was and the mayor asked, "What does it mean?" DeBruin replied, "Nothing but that's all right."

After further discussion Edward Zeininger finally introduced a measure authorizing the chief to attend the convention, which is to be held Oct. 25 and 26, with expenses paid. Tuchscherer, Laemmerich, Zeininger, Crowley, and Pinkerton favored the motion while Karrow, Scanlon, Michalkiewicz, O'Brien and DeBruin voted against it. The mayor cast the deciding vote and the measure was lost.

Alderman William Karrow again suggested a full-time engineer for the city Tuesday night when attention centered on the city engineer's department. The mayor attacked Merritt Clinton, a member of the engineer's staff, declaring that Clinton had refused some information to WPA men. The mayor charged that Clinton had said he couldn't give the information because "the mayor wanted to host the work."

Asks Support

The mayor called on the aldermen to back him up on WPA work or 112 men would be out of work shortly after Christmas. Alderman Philip Michalkiewicz promised the aldermen would back the mayor. The mayor declared that he had full confidence in A. E. McMahon, city engineer. Alderman Scanlon suggested that McMahon should give the city problems his personal attention instead of delegating them to some of his employees.

Alderman Zeininger pointed out the need for an engineer at planning commission sessions and the city clerk was authorized to write a letter requesting that some member of the engineer's department attend the commission meetings.

The planning commission presented a report denying the request for alteration of the zoning ordinance to permit a grocery store at Eighth and DePere streets. Approval was granted for an addition to the building at 13 Main street and the heavy industrial zone on Third street was extended to include the R. F. Schrage property. The report was adopted.

The mayor reported that the Mill street bridge was kept open from 12 minutes to 1 o'clock to 2 minutes after, nearly a quarter of an hour during the rush traffic hour recently. The city has an ordinance forbidding boats to go through the bridges during the rush hours. Earlier this summer Edward C. McKenzie, city attorney, was instructed to write the Cooke and Brown company of Oshkosh, chief users of the canal, for their cooperation.

That cooperation was promised but Alderman Crowley pointed out that it has been promised in the past and has resulted only in temporary observance. To make the city ordinance more effective, the attorney was instructed to secure approval of the war department on the ordinance.

Scheduled for Hearing

A request for curb and gutter on Fifth street from Appleton to DePere streets was referred to public works hearing, scheduled to precede the next regular council meeting, Nov. 7. The street committee was authorized to repair the curb on the south side of Main street at the city triangle. Alderman Pinkerton objected to the condition there and asked that temporary repairs be made.

The council voted $1,600 from the general fund to the park and recreation board which is short of funds. No bids were received for the river lots advertised for sale by the city, Walter J. Dougherty, city clerk, reported. The aldermen pointed out that prospective purchasers would like more information.

ACCUSED SLAYER IN COURT

George W. Gore, Jr. (right), 32, is shown with Sheriff Ed Powell in the Franklin county courtroom at Benton, Ill., as he went on trial on a murder charge in the slaying of his stepmother, Mrs. Nancy Gore. Gore's father, Dr. George W. Gore, is also being held on a murder charge for the slaying of Carl Choissier, who was attorney for young Gore.

Weddings Take Prominent Place on Social Calendar

Neenah—Five weddings are scheduled this week in the Twin Cities with about 10 others dominating the social calendar for the coming weeks.

Miss Katherine Vaughter, E. Doty avenue, and John Hilton, 208 E. Doty avenue, will be married Thursday afternoon in Neenah. Saturday, Oct. 21, Miss Gladys Jacobson and Edward Schanke, Menasha, will exchange vows in Menasha.

Miss Verna Blohm, 530 Chestnut street, and Paul Osewalski, 389 Elm street, Menasha, have also selected that day for their wedding. Miss Margaret Resch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Resch, Tayco street, and Norman Jensen will be wed Saturday and Miss Margaret Dennis, 389 Pine street, and Edwin Harold, Menasha, will be married that day also.

Miss Ruth Ehlers, route 3, has selected Wednesday, Oct. 25, as the date for her wedding to Lee Gressler, 308 Lincoln street, Neenah.

Thursday, Oct. 26, is the day which Miss Dorothy Campbell and David Sudge, Neenah, have selected for their wedding.

Night Ceremony

In a ceremony Saturday night, Oct. 28, Miss Doris Renner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Beerman, Barab, Wis., will be married to William R. Beerman, Neenah, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Beerman, Barab, Wis.

Three weddings are planned for Nov. 4. Miss Ila Kiefer, 720 First street, Menasha, Miss Grace Schwartzbauer, Fourth street, and Miss Inez Dalton, 415 Union street, are the brides-to-be who have selected the first Saturday in November.

Miss Rose Ann Bevers, for whom a shower will be held this evening, has selected Nov. 18 for her wedding day which is also the day for the wedding of Miss Olga Halde, a Neenah girl.

Miss Lucille Shea, 511 Clark street, will be married Thanksgiving day to Elmer Torkow, Appleton.

Citizenship Training

Neenah—Plans for the citizenship training and induction for new voters program in Winnebago county were outlined at a meeting of representatives from the various sections of the county last night at Oshkosh.

Representing Neenah at the meeting were S. F. Shattuck, E. H. Radtke, Gordon Drews, Carl Christensen, Ivan Williams, C. F. Hedges, Harvey Leaman and J. H. Hoizman.

An elaborate program is being arranged and an intensive campaign is being mapped out for each community in the county.

As to depth of lots, roadway, and similar points before offering any bids.

The engineer was instructed to make the survey and to bring in a recommendation as to the road. The report is due at the next meeting.

Also due at the next meeting is information on the Ellinger plat in the Second ward. There was an agreement among the aldermen as to whether the plat had been approved and the attorney and clerk are to report.

M. F. Crowley called attention to the new police and firemen's pension law and termed it an "imposition on cities." Scanlon pointed out that the city might have to pay $50,000 in pensions and Crowley urged all aldermen to read the bill. The measure was read to the council by the clerk.

Wants Flag Staff

Alderman Karrow said that there is no flag staff at Nicolet school and asked the clerk to request the board of education to erect one if funds remain at the end of the year. The aldermen and mayor received an invitation to attend the third annual benefit ball of the Menasha Policemen's Protective association, scheduled for Nov. 2 at Germania hall.

Alderman DeBruin reported on his investigation of the application of Richmond cleaners of Oshkosh for a license. He advised that the company request the bond from the city as well as the license fee for last year and this fiscal year before action is taken.

A donation of $50 from the celebrations fund was voted to the C.Y.O. band which played five concerts during the summer. A beverage operator's permit was granted to G. H. Betz, 1 Main street. A retail liquor license was granted to Kurtz drug, 1 Main street, replacing the one held by Schlitz drug company.

Legion County Council To Meet at Winneconne

Neenah—A meeting of the county council of American Legion posts of Winnebago county will be held tonight at Winneconne. The meeting will be the first since the installation of the new officers last month and will be a dinner meeting.

Representatives of Henry J. Lenz, post of the American Legion on the council, who will attend the meeting tonight, are Hugh Geibel, post commander; H. L. Sherman, post adjutant, and Carl N. Drexler, post commander. Drexler is the president of the county council.

Home on Tenth Street

Neenah—M. E. Palmer was granted a permit this morning to build a new home on Tenth street at a cost of $3,000. The home will be of brick and veneer and it will be 24 by 30 2-3 feet, two stories high with a hip roof and a 10-inch concrete block basement. The contractor is Lytle and Smith, Appleton.

Antone W. Kuether, 708 Congress street, was issued a permit to build a garage and a porch at a cost of $350. The garage will be 20 by 22 feet and the porch 8 by 10 feet. William Switchenberg is the carpenter.

LaCrosse Boxers On Amateur Card

Given Top Positions on Tomorrow's Program At Armory G

LAMERS REPLACED

Little Chute Fighter Can't Show Because Of Injured Ankle

THE CARD
Dick Meyer, Racine, versus Frank Guenther, LaCrosse, five rounds at 160 pounds.
Bob Bohren or Bob Presser, Milwaukee, versus Lyle Mason, LaCrosse, five rounds at 145 pounds.
Jimmy Coyne, Fond du Lac, versus Robert Amunson, LaCrosse, three rounds at 158 pounds.
Tufty Toonen, Appleton, versus Wilbur Ott, LaCrosse, three rounds at 127 pounds.
Bob Hannes, Oshkosh, versus Al McPherson, Keshena, three rounds at 160 pounds.
Carleton Fuerst, Appleton, versus Eddie Troxel, Oshkosh, three rounds at 147 pounds.
Marty Siebers, Kaukauna, versus Smokey Van Bostel, Little Chute, three rounds at 170 pounds.

A 7-bout amateur boxing program featuring a team from LaCrosse will be staged by Oney Johnston post of the American Legion at Armory G Thursday evening as the art of leather tossing is resumed locally. Two of the bouts will be windups over the 5-round route.

Topping the show will be a bout featuring Dick Meyer of Racine versus Frank Guenther of LaCrosse in the 160-pound class. Meyer has won 12 straight bouts and has rated top positions on numerous cards in Milwaukee and Racine. He is a knockout puncher and rated as a corner. Guenther is an Eau Claire lad, a student at LaCrosse State Teachers college. He had won 17 of his last 18 bouts losing only in the quarter finals of the Tribune tournament last winter. He was Eau Claire gloves champion for two years. Eight of his wins have been by knockouts. Last week he cut Frank Elsch's eye at Manitowoc and won a technical K. O. victory.

Lammers Can't Show

Lyle Mason, LaCrosse, will meet Bob Bohren or Bob Presser of Milwaukee in the other windup. Which of the boys will be used will be determined tomorrow. Mason, winner in 11 of 12 bouts, was supposed to have fought Hoxey Lammers, Little Chute, but the latter cannot go on. Last week the two fought at Manitowoc and Lammers slipped off the edge of the ring and sprained an ankle. He lost the bout on a technical K. O. and because the injury hasn't healed he is unable to go on this week. Reports from Manitowoc were that the boys were on even terms when Hoxey slipped. Robert Amunson of LaCrosse will tangle with Jimmy Coyne of Fond du Lac in the last of the supporting bouts. They will come in around 158 pounds. Amunson is winner in eight bouts and loser in three and won the Wisconsin Rapids gloves title. He is reported to be fast and clever. Jimmy Coyne is the pride of Fond du Lac and recently earned a decision over Veev Van, Milwaukee, tops in the Milwaukee area middleweight division.

Toonen vs. Ott

Tufty Toonen of Appleton has been signed to oppose Wilbur Ott, LaCrosse, a veteran campaigner. Ott is a southpaw, has won 27 bouts while losing 14, and carries a wallop in both hands. Last week he had an easy opponent at Manitowoc and mauled him badly. Toonen has been fighting for several years with more or less success. In his most recent starts he has copied verdicts and is ready for a big season. He also packs a K. O. punch.

Hannes vs. Oshkosh

Bob Hannes of Oshkosh, winner in several bouts in the valley in the last year or two, tangles with Al McPherson, Keshena. Hannes has fought here before but McPherson will be making his debut. He has had eight bouts.

Eddie Troxel vs. Oshkosh

Eddie Troxel of Oshkosh, another performer who has been here often, will meet Carleton Fuerst of Appleton. The latter is tall and rangy and his hard. He is reported to be in excellent shape and will give Troxel a fight he'll remember.

A Family Row

The evening's activities will open with Marty Siebers, Kaukauna, mixing with Smokey Van Bostel, Little Chute, in something of a family and inter-city row. The Kaukauna-Little Chute angle is bad enough but Tom Cahoe, Appleton, who manages Van Bostel, is brother-in-law of Siebers. It seems Siebers is aiming to beat his brother.

Joe Louis Will Retire to Run Riding Club, Restaurant

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (P)—When Joe Louis has made the final defense of his heavyweight title (probably next summer) and retired as the only undefeated Negro champion in ring history, the Brown Bomber will settle down as proprietor of his own swank riding club and eating establishment near Detroit.

It's all mapped out for Joe by his co-managers, Julian Black and John Roxborough, just as they have arranged every other item of his existence since he came into the orbit of these two remarkably determined men.

For the last six months, our informant says, Roxborough and Black have been giving more thought to the champion's future than to making his matches and supervising his training. They are certain he can retire undefeated next year, but they are intensely interested in seeing that Joe remains a credit to the Negro race after he has hung up the red mittens.

"If Joe thinks he's going to retire to a life of leisure and just plain pleasuring himself he's badly mistaken," says our insider. "He'll work and behave himself and not get fat if Julian and John have to break his neck for him."

Owens Horses

The riding academy and eatery for members of Detroit's colored upper-crust is the idea they finally have decided upon, he says. Joe already owns several blooded saddle horses and, furthermore, knows how to ride 'em. He will be the host, perhaps taking an occasional turn around the paths with favored guests and dipping into the kitchen now and then to see that the fried chicken has body and flavor.

Like other members of their race—but even more so—Black and Roxborough feel an inordinate pride in Louis, not alone for his accomplishments inside the ring, but for his conduct outside the ropes as well.

Doubtless, some of their zeal has been attributable to the unpleasant memories attached to the career of the last Negro heavyweight champion before Louis—Jack Johnson. They are fiercely determined there shall be no slight blemish on Joe's introduction to ringside, they want Joe to get the same kind of hands that Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney receive each time.

For some time after they took over Joe's contract, Black and Roxborough allowed him exactly $5 spending money each week, and there were some weeks when he saved a good part of it. Since he got up into the big money and bought himself a wife they have been somewhat more liberal with Joe's money, but they still keep a steady hand on his change pocket. He will have the better part of a million dollars—clear, when John and Julian decide it's time for him to quit fighting.

Nebraska-Baylor Game Threatens to Steal Spotlight

Kansas City — (P) — Nebraska's rarin'-to-go Cougars, number one challengers for Oklahoma's Big Six football crown, can throw more chills into the family circle by beating Baylor, leader of the razzle-dazzle Southwest conference, at Lincoln Saturday.

The Big Six race gets well under way at the same time but the Nebraska-Baylor affair shapes up as one of the outstanding inter-sectional skirmishes of the weekend. It threatens to steal the spotlight from Missouri-Kansas State and Oklahoma-Kansas conference games.

Kansas State, riding the crest of a three-game victory wave, refuses to be disheartened because fullback Elmer Hackney is laid up with an injured knee. Facing their sternest test against Missouri, the Wildcats are going about muttering "stop Christmas."

New Technique at Ohio State; Title Talk Isn't Heard

And Francis Schmidt's Buckeyes Seem to Thrive On the Silence

BY TOM SILER
CHICAGO — (P) — Ohio State's ambitious Buckeyes are employing a new (for them) technique this year in their drive toward the Big Ten football title.

In the past few years predictions that the Bucks were title-bound among the rabid partisans in and near Columbus. But no such reports came from the Ohio city this fall, one and all maintaining an eloquent silence on the football fortunes of Francis Schmidt's eleven.

The Bucks seem to thrive on this latter procedure. They smashed a good Missouri team, 19-0, and then neatly tagged a 13-0 deficit on Northwestern.

They get another tremendous test Saturday when they go to Minneapolis to engage Minnesota in the Big Ten's most important game of the week. The Gophers were hardly less impressive last week in battling Purdue to a 13-13 tie.

Both coaches yesterday reported they were emphasizing defensive measures, indicating a wholesome respect for the other's array of fleet and experienced backs.

The winner of Saturday's game will rate close behind Michigan's favored eleven as the ultimate title winner.

George Paskvan, Don Miller and Bob Peterson worked out yesterday as members of Wisconsin's revamped backfield which may work as a unit against Northwestern. . . . At Evanston, Paul Soper's work at left halfback may earn him the starting spot for the Wildcats against the Badgers. . . . Tackle Al Wistert, hurt early in the season, rejoined Michigan's squad as the wolves scurried. . . . Chicago, foe of Michigan Saturday, was one tackle stronger with the addition of Hugh Rendleman to the squad. . . . Rendleman was on the squad a year ago but did not win a letter. . . .

A thousand students turned out to welcome Illinois back from the coast, but the squad lost little time getting back to work for the Indiana game. . . . Indiana is promising its defense to solve Illinois' passes. . . . Coach Mal Elward of Purdue has indicated he plans to fill the slot with aerials against Michigan State Saturday. . . . Although idle until the Wisconsin game Oct. 28, Iowa nevertheless indulged in a long scrimmage yesterday.

Bill Lemich, who suffered an injured chest during the Illinois' west coast jaunt, will be lost to the team for two weeks, according to X-ray physician L. M. T. Silwell. . . . X-Rays were taken of the injury yesterday, revealing a slight chip fracture of the breast bone.

Pat Ferguson smacked a 246 game and Wally Henning jolted a 625 series to share individual honors during Eagles league matches at Eagles alleys last night. With Ferguson slapping a 598 series and 215 game and Herman Strutz spilling 211, Miller High Life jolted top team totals of 1,052 and 2,783, winning two games from Adler Brau. High for the losers was Frank Fries with a 574 series and 202 game and A. Knaus with a 204 single.

O. K. Taxis took two games from Century Club as Carl Wagner thumped a 228 game and 578 series. R. Schuster adding a 201 game. Tops for the losers was Lloyd Schroeder with a 210 game and 560 series.

Two games were credited to Denmark Beers in a match with Mello Brew. Henning drilled games of 207 and 228 for his topheavy total. Wally Van Caster pounded a 232 game and A. Hoppe hit 208 for the winners. Dick Nabbedfeld topped 591 with a 211 series, L. Hansen, 581, and A. Brandt 206 for the losers.

Lutz Ice company won the odd game from Stark Hotel as Don Ruhn steamed games of 205 and 220 for a 600 series and D. Strutz pinned 203. Tops for the losers was H. Wegner with a 219 single and John Gmeinweiser with a 556.

Gridders Won't Shave
Until They Win a Game
Ashland — (P) — Defeated in their first three games, Northland college football players have resolved not to shave until they win a game this season. The resolution, signed and notarized, provides for payment of fines for violations. Of course, if Northland fails to win this year, the boys will start shaving after the season ends. Coach Arthur Gemme agreed to grow a mustache.

Report Major Griffith Showing Improvement

Chicago — (P) — Major John L. Griffith, Western conference commissioner of athletics, was reported improving today following his collapse Monday night with a stomach ailment.

After visiting her husband in an

Evanston, Ill., hospital, Mrs. Griffith said, "We think he is much better now, but he must have complete rest."

"The doctors say there is nothing alarming about his condition now, but he can have no visitors and no telephone calls for a while. But he looks much better now than he did Monday."

Ganzel Won't Appeal

Fine by Judge Bramham

Sarasota, Fla. — (P) — Foster L. (Babe) Ganzel, manager of the St. Paul Saints of the American association, said yesterday he would not appeal a ruling of Judge W. C. Bramham, minor league baseball commissioner, fining him $250 in connection with the sale of player contracts in the Southeastern league.

Bramham fined Ganzel and J. H. Carter, president of the Selma club of the Southeastern league.

Bramham said his investigation had disclosed a side agreement between the two in 1937 when Ganzel was manager of the Selma Leafs providing for Ganzel to receive a percentage of player contract sales.

Ganzel, declaring he helped organize the Selma club and received a small salary and a percentage of the profits, explained he believed such an arrangement was proper.

Badgers Work Hard for 'Cats

MADISON — (P) — Coach Harry Stuhldreher's new "dread-naught" backfield, which averaged 196 pounds, got its first test of battle yesterday as a unit and its performance met with the Wisconsin coach's approval.

The entire squad worked hard in preparation for the Northwestern game Saturday with the first and second teams going through a long offensive and defensive scrimmage against freshmen.

Blocking, which had been sadly missed this year, returned yesterday and for the first time this season the Badger runners received consistent support.

Peterson, who prior to this week was a fullback, seemed on a par with the rest of the left halfbacks as far as speed was concerned. He packs more poundage than most of the candidates, however, and that fact makes him more of a running threat. He passed well and played smart defensive ball.

Stuhldreher announced that he would play Peterson at both half and full, but if he continues to show improvement at the halfback post he would remain there. Claude York, Sioux Falls, S. D. junior, also will handle dual roles. He will play both right half and quarter.

For the first time in a month Johnny Doyle, alternate center, took part in scrimmage and indicated he would be ready for service Saturday.

The second and third teams will receive a long scrimmage session today and Stuhldreher planned to again use Doyle at center. He needs body contact work and Stuhldreher also will use today as a test to decide definitely whether the big Pennsylvania pivot can be used against the Wildcats Saturday.

Thomson Replaced at End for M. U. Eleven

Milwaukee — (P) — Coach Paddy Driscoll announced a change in the first team lineup as he sent the Marquette University football team through its final heavy workout yesterday before Saturday's game and Southern Methodist at Dallas, Tex.

Gil Thomson, Kenosha junior and varsity end, was replaced on the first string team by Bill Burke, senior from Chicago. Thomson, however, is expected to see considerable action against SMU.

The Golden Avalanche had little trouble pushing over several touchdowns in rapid order against a freshman squad, but the Marquette mentors expressed some dissatisfaction with the blocking and with the offensive charging of the line.

Bill Phillips, quarterback and game captain this week, carried the bill over for two touchdowns, the first on a 15 yard run and the second after catching a pass tossed by Jimmy Richardson. Harry Leyensar took a short pass from Richardson and ran 40 yards for another touchdown.

PRO ATTENDANCE UP

New York — (P) — Attendance at National Football league games for the first five weeks of the season is running ten per cent ahead of the record pace set last year. President Carl L. Storck announced. The first 23 games have averaged an increase of 2,000 spectators a game over 1938.

Appleton Represented in Newly Organized Cage Loop

ORGANIZATION of a Wisconsin-Michigan Basketball league, with Appleton Elm Tree Bakers as one of the Wisconsin representatives, has been announced by Louis Grishaber of the Baker squad. The Bakers have leased Armory G for the season and will play semi-pro ball against league opponents and the better traveling teams.

Michigan will be represented in the loop by Ironwood, Wakefield and Stambaugh. Wisconsin teams are Rhinelander, Superior, Ashland, Rothchild and Appleton. Two possible entrants are Hurley and Kimberly. The league season will open on Dec. 1 and close March 1.

Ray Sorenson, Rhinelander, is the league commissioner and Grishaber one of the four directors. Teams will post $15 bond and $5 for operating expenses of the loop. The next league meeting will be Nov. 5 at Rhinelander.

The Bakers will begin practices at Armory G on Oct. 26, Grishaber has announced. The squad will show Guy Krumm, Kaukauna coach and former Stevens Point Teacher star; Bob Zuercher, St. Mary's Menasha coach and an all-A. A. U. player at Des Moines, Ia., a few years ago; Rollie Winter, former Appleton high star and a contention with the University of Idaho for three years, and several members of the squad of last year. The latter include Karl Lilje, Orville Wonsler, Eddie Krause, Jack Sellers, Eddie Verbrick, Mark Catlin, Louis Grishaber and Albert Gaffney. After the cuts are made the squad will show ten players.

The first local game is scheduled for Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 30. Stan Beguhn, Kaukauna, will manage the team and Jack Van Lieshout, Kaukauna, will do the coaching.

Packers Play At Bay Sunday

Meet Detroit in Final Home Exhibition; Lions Undefeated

GREEN BAY—It is quite possible that the Western division championship of the National Football league will be decided right here Sunday afternoon, when the Green Bay Packers meet the Detroit Lions. Game time is 2 p. m.

The powerful Lions haven't lost a game all season, and are probably the biggest surprise in the league this year. On the other hand, although having suffered a defeat at the hands of Cleveland, the Packers are among the favorite sons. Whoever wins Sunday will have a big lead in the home stretch. The game is the final one in Green Bay this season.

Pittsburgh Grid Teams Still Lead Despite Shakeups

Pitt, Carnegie Tech and Duquesne Remain Among Best in East

BY JOHN CAMPBELL

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—This steel center, hub of pre-season discussion which threatened its place in the football sun, topped the nation today with three undefeated, untied major college elevens.

No city in the land at this date can match the collective big-time accomplishments of Pitt, Carnegie Tech and Duquesne, listed in the order they are ranked by most experts. Each has won three games and both Carnegie and Duquesne have spotless defensive records.

And in much the same order their troubles developed. Split by internal bickerings for some time, the Pitt athletic cauldron boiled over last spring with the resignation of Dr. John Bain Sutherland, long-time head football coach. The school went strictly amateur and, soon after, yearling gridders revolted, claiming they had been promised free tuition but had been billed for it.

Pitt's troubles, though, were smoothed over and Charley Bowser took over "Joek's" job along with an array of second-stringers expected to be little more than stooges for the opposition.

But the Panther went west and smashed at Washington, 27-0; came home and beat West Virginia, 20-0, then skinned past Duke's Blue Devils, 14-13.

Tech Beats Temple

The road hasn't been as rocky for Carnegie Tech but the boys proved they had something beside pretty uniforms with a 6-0 victory over Temple, which later licked Texas Christian. They crushed Wittenberg by 35 points and picked up 21 against Cleveland's Case.

Bill Kern, in his second season, ran into difficulties last spring when a group of Tech sophomores, holders of scholarships, asked a clear definition of their status in the face of dwindling alumni contributions. The situation cleared up, however, and Kern has about the same squad which won the mythical eastern title last year.

At Duquesne, John "Little Clipper" Smith resigned before the start of spring practice and also "Bugs" Donelli took over a squad of sophomores. They routed Illinois Wesleyan and Wayneburg by 31 and 20 points, respectively, and beat Manhattan 7-0.

But this weekend comes the revolution. The Panthers take on little Duquesne in the first of the city series and at Carnegie Tech's past New York University at New York, the city's ranks of top-notchers will be thinned.

Walters Credits Jimmy Wilson With Making Him Hurling Ace

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—William (Bucky) Walters, the National league's most valuable player—an honor "which surpassed my fondest dreams"—is learning another sport from the man who transformed him from an inflied to one of baseball's outstanding pitchers.

The Cincinnati hurler learned of his selection by the Baseball Writers' association as he helped Jimmy Wilson, his coach and former manager, repair Wilson's boat in preparation for the duck-hunting season.

"Jimmy was responsible for my success on the mound and now he's going to show me how to shoot ducks," said the 29-year-old right hander, who won 27 games for the Reds last season.

Laying aside his paint brush at a hunting club at nearby Morrisville on the Delaware river, Wilson said:

"I'm mighty proud about Bucky winning that award. I'll take the credit for giving him the pitching idea but Bucky had the ability and the heart to win—and that's what makes a successful hurler."

Five years ago Walters came back from the minors to his home town as a third-baseman for the Phillies. Wilson, then manager of the club, was convinced "Bucky" had the making of a great pitcher. He made a hurler out of him and followed Walters to Cincinnati last June.

Now Bucky expects his "boss" to make as good a hunter out of him as he did a pitcher.

About next year, Walters and Wilson both believe the Reds will win the pennant again.

"Let's not discuss that now, it's 145 days until spring training," Walters said.

"No, Bucky," chimed in Jimmy, "it's only 143 days 'till we go back to work."

BADGER BRIEFS

Editor's Note: This is another of a series of articles on University of Wisconsin football players.)

BY DAVE ROWE

Madison—(AP)—The center post of the University of Wisconsin football team will be well fortified this year. Jack Murray, a 6 foot 3 1/2 inch veteran of two years, is back. He weighs 220 pounds.

A native of Plymouth, Pa., Murray came to the University as a freshman in Harry Stuhldreher's first year as Badger coach. In his sophomore year he replaced a veteran of three years and has held the starting assignment ever since.

His coach calls him "the finest defensive center in the conference." He can diagnose enemy plays before they get under way. He intercepted no less than 15 passes last year.

Movie talent scouts showed much interest in Murray while the team was on the West Coast last season. He came from the coal mine region of the Quaker state.

Murray's greatest disappointment—"It was the Pittsburgh game, of course," he explains. He played one minute of the game and then was helped off the field with a badly sprained ankle. "That's the one game that I wanted to play 60 minutes," he commented sourly.

The big Pennsylvanian has worked for a local ice company for the past three years.

Murray won letters in football, basketball and track in high school. He is a brilliant student in zoology and hopes to become a coach and teacher upon graduation. He has no ambition to enter professional football ranks.

Carroll Back Plans To Get His Revenge

Waukegan—(AP)—Those thumping sounds coming from the Carroll college football field this week are caused by Kenny Binder, who is setting himself in shape physically and mentally for the Carroll-Lake Forest game.

314 lb., 190-pound quarterback from Milwaukee wants to win that game. He has a score to settle and since he is a senior, his only chance may come when his team invades the Lake Forest belknap on Saturday.

Binder's grudge carries over from the last basketball season. Playing against Lake Forest, Carroll found itself trailing. Binder turned on the heat and sparked a rally. He sank a succession of long shots but was ejected on fouls before the score could be tied. Carroll fans described the fouls as the "alleged" variety. Lake Forest won, and Binder didn't like that.

Fairly Good Crop Year Is Shown in Autumn Estimates

Wisconsin Experienced Unusually Hot and Dry September

Fall estimates show that Wisconsin has had a fairly good crop year despite some unfavorable weather which began early in the spring, according to a crop reporting service bulletin received by J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent.

Along with most of the Mississippi valley states and a large part of the Great Plains area, Wisconsin experienced an unusually hot and dry September. This period of hot and dry weather resulted in rather short fall pastures, especially in the southern part of the state, and corn matured early.

While plant growth was generally retarded last month, farm work progressed rapidly. Harvesting and threshing operations at the beginning of this month were further along than usual and they were particularly ahead of last year when September was a wet month.

Wisconsin farmers will begin the heavy feeding season with sufficient supplies of feed in most instances. The state's corn crop is good. Much of it was harvested early and little frost damage occurred this year. Ripe corn is found in the northern part of the state where most of it is usually used for silage. The state's corn crop is estimated at about 82 million bushels, which is 16 per cent above the average production although 9 per cent below the large crop of last year.

In addition to a good supply of corn in most counties the grain crop is generally close to average but somewhat below the harvest of last year. Hay production, while smaller than the record crop of last year, is above average and the quality this year is better than a year ago.

While crop conditions in the United States have varied greatly in different sections of the country, the total supply of feed grains on farms on Oct. 1 was about 4 per cent above the large supply a year ago. Hay supplies in the country as a whole are ample for ordinary feeding requirements and should permit a carryover somewhat larger than average carryover next spring. The corn crop is about equal to last year's crop and about 10 per cent above average production.

State Council of Agriculture Plans Get-Together Meet

With "Problems of Agriculture Beyond the Farm" as its program theme, the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, an organization composed of 37 cooperative farm groups, will hold its annual get-together conference and exposition at Madison Nov. 2, 3 and 4. A delegation from Outagamie county is expected to attend.

The program will deal with the effect of war upon farming, the neutrality question, advertising, packaging and selling dairy products, the importance of the poultry industry, effect of propaganda against meat products, and values in American country life.

Thursday evening, Nov. 2, will be banquet night, and a program consisting of music and other entertainment will be presented at that time.

Recognized leaders in agriculture and in problems of international relations will address the convention. Farm equipment and modern conveniences which lead to the building of a better rural living will be exhibited for the entire three days. With the exception of the banquet, all sessions, programs, and the exposition will be entirely free.

County Committee to Study Farm Program

The county agricultural committee will meet at 9:30 Wednesday morning, Oct. 25, at the courthouse to discuss a state extension program for the next year in the county. J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent, met with state representatives at Madison Monday regarding the program.

WINS IN 'BEAUTY CONTEST'

The Spring Brook Cheese factory, shown above, located at the junction of Highway 41 and County Trunk BE has been adjudged winner of second prize for Wisconsin in the 1939 cheese factory grounds appearance contest. A. W. Schneider of the factory has been a rather consistent winner in the annual "beauty contest." He took second honors in 1936.

Evergreen Trees Shd Old Needles On Inner Branches

Needles on the inner branches of many evergreen trees are turning brown not because of a fungous disease which might spread to other trees, as many home owners suspect, but because it is as natural for old needles to be shed as it is for autumn leaves to fall.

That is the assurance given today by E. L. Chambers, of the state plant industry division, in a bulletin received by J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent. All needles two or more years old are shed from the inner branches of evergreens a few weeks prior to killing frosts, Chambers said. In all evergreen species the old needles fall when they have become so overshadowed or crowded as to be no longer functional.

It is important, Chambers said, that evergreens be thoroughly watered just before the ground freezes.

Two Outagamie County Farms Get New Owners

Two farms in Outagamie county exchanged hands in recent realty transactions. Martin J. Jans has purchased a 127-acre farm in the town of Oneida from Bart Jans. Nick Court has bought a 63-acre farm in the town of Bovina from Alex McEwen. The realty transfers have been filed at the office of Stephen Peeters, county register of deeds. The following transfers also have been filed.

Peter P. Vollmer, et al, to Ralph G. Hanley, a lot in the old Fifth ward, Appleton.

Louis Kaphingst to Frank Stingle, two lots in the village of Black Creek.

A. W. Laabs to Armin W. Westphal, a lot in the town of Grand Chute.

William L. Ruwoldt to Martin Kuba, a parcel of land in the town of Cicero.

Menasha Woman Host At Economics Meeting

Mrs. William Gallau, Menasha, was hostess to Wide Awake home economics club at a social meeting Thursday afternoon at her home. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Clarence Gosz and Mrs. Alvina Miller. Ten women attended. The next meeting will be Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. C. Steffler, route 1, Menasha.

During the month of October St. Mary church at Greenville has rosary devotions at 2 o'clock each Sunday afternoon. Benediction follows the recitation of the rosary.

Twenty tables of cards were in play at the open card party sponsored by the Altar society of St. Mary church Oct. 10 at the school hall. Mrs. Fred Braun won the schafkopf prize and Mrs. Marion Dietz the award at schmeer.

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION

Shiocton — A tractor demonstration will be held at the Maurice Powers farm, route 2, Shiocton, at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Nine different tractors will compete in plowing in red clay soil. The Powers farm is a mile south of Shiocton.

After A Man's Heart

their own man to assay. But after Tim had come back—keep that in mind, Buff!—from Idaho Springs!"

"And the specimens he had taken from the mine?"

He sighted gustily. "You've put your finger on the rotten spot in the scheme. Iris, of course, had access to Tim's office while he was gone. Not much of an office; just the little outer room, and then the laboratory. No secret about anything. She drifted in and out whenever she pleased. What she did was to substitute ore containing genuine silver for the stuff Tim had taken from her mine. Same size and about the same shape. After ten days, and of course having no suspicions whatever—I hadn't either, if it comes to that! Don't lose sight of that!—it never occurred to him they were not the same. It sounds screwy but any mining engineer will tell you how easily it could be done if the whole thing seemed open and aboveboard. Being in a mining county, you see, and assaying ore being all in the day's work, we weren't looking for any funny business. So—"

"Where did she get the other specimens—the ones with silver in 'em?"

"She had an accomplice," was the grim answer. "Guy named Latshaw. Owned a mine that petered out, and had kept some of the ore he'd taken from it. Anyhow the whole proposition looked so good that Tim and I took all our money and bought up as much land as we could; not only surface rights, you know, but the whole business."

"And then—"

"It was Latshaw's land, of course, only we'd never heard of Latshaw. It wasn't a swindle on a large scale. I mean—we didn't form a company on our own and sell shares—anything like that. Latshaw merely unloaded a lot of land he didn't want at a price that netted him enough to make it worth his while to play Tim for a sucker."

"But—but I don't see why that should have floored Tim so completely! Even if his bank account was wiped out, it was only money—his money—"

"And mine," he reminded her. "Quite a bit of mine, as it happened. My own fault, of course, but Tim took it hard because he thought he should have looked up the ore . . . or made another series of tests or something. Also, there was Iris. He thought she was heaven's gift to him, d'you see? And the publicity. The papers got hold of it, and it made quite an interesting story: lovely adventuress, trusting expert, clever substitution of ore—you'd have to live in these parts to understand what thrilling reading it was."

"Tim Cracked Up?"

"What became of—of Iris?"

"Did a fade-out, of course, as soon as the land was bought and the deeds recorded. Oh, yes, and she left a note for Tim, too. She couldn't resist telling him how she'd worked the deal. Now you have the whole story."

"Not quite, I think," said Buff. "What happened then?"

"Nothing. Tim slogged away as usual. Business dropped off, of course, and that didn't add to his hilarity. Everything gone at one fell swoop: his bank account and mine, his faith in women, something of his professional prestige. Not all of it, as a matter of fact, thought he thinks so. I wanted to move on where we wouldn't encounter knowing grins wherever we went; or at the very least, I wanted old Tim to take a vacation somewhere until the whole thing blew over. He wouldn't. He swore he'd stick it out right there; build up his reputation again—"

"He wouldn't," the girl said.

"He darn near did. People knew him—trusted him. The trick didn't do us as much damage as you might think. But Tim cracked up after a while and the doctors ordered him away. He wouldn't go; not, at least, until he'd measured his length a couple of times in the laboratory, and smashed a lot of test tubes. Even then I had to talk to him like a Dutch uncle; tell him it wasn't fair to me for him to keep on in the condition he was. I overdid it, of course; made him afraid he'd make some gosh-awful mistake."

"I saw the advertisement of this place in a Denver paper, and persuaded him to take a month off out here. I had a nice picture of Tim loafing in the sunshine, going for long healthful tramps, swapping yarns with Atkins—and coming back in October fit as a fiddle. If you—"

"If I hadn't come along, it might have turned out that way. Is that what you're thinking? As it was, he hurt his ankle, driving over our road after dark, and got into a worse condition than he'd been before."

"Don't you believe it! You've done him worlds of good. I'll bet these Hunts have helped even more. I could wish for Tim's sake that a long succession of tenants would arrive, one after another, to distract his mind. As it is, he's almost well again. Westland says he's improved a lot. Of course he's still remorseful about my money, and he's still upset over Iris. . . poor old Tim!"

"He's never messed around much with girls, you see. His father died when he was a kid and Tim supported his mother; put himself through college besides. That didn't leave time for anything else. His mother was a lovely person and Tim sort of founded his ideas of womanhood on her. And Iris, plague take her, was pretty swell to look at; appealed, too. She had Tim eating out of her hand almost from the first. Personally," concluded Tim's partner in a level voice, "I could get a lot of enjoyment seeing her sweet face peering from behind some good stout bars. It's not the money; it's what she

Arrangements for the meeting at Oshkosh are being made by Irving Stimp, Winnebago county traffic officer.

POLITICS FUTURE

Capetown —(P)—Women have a definite place in the future of politics of South Africa, Dr. A. Marais Moll, M. P., insists.

Members of Parliament have to listen to views and wishes of women constituents but there are no women on boards which consider legislation. The Wheat Control Board and the butter board are two important bodies where a woman's opinion would be of special value, he said.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—Is Co.

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Want To Get Rich Quick . . . Or Wealthier Every Day?

The richest misers on Earth will envy you if you have a wealth of family . . . a wealth of appreciation for Nature's wonders and a lively awareness of the world's beauty . . . a talent for making more friends . . . a zest for good living . . . and a happy philosophy that says, "I wouldn't exchange places with anybody!" What a world of living such a wealthy man gets out of each day . . . sharing his wealth.

Of course, Budweiser is only incidental to your scheme for good living. But, since good living is a series of pleasant incidents, Budweiser becomes important . . . for its generous contribution of companionship when you are alone . . . fellowship when you are among friends . . . and contentment when the day's work is done.

proof, zero-proof garment by building in one of these ready-for-use chamois interlinings. Canadian women have been enjoying them for years. These are made of cured hides, will not only keep the cold from penetrating and retain the body heat, but they will also press under an iron. They are 24 in. long in back and almost to the hips in front.

Romans took great interest in teaching birds to talk. They taught parrots, crows, ravens, magpies and starlings to speak.

One day a young raven flew into a Roman shoemaker's shop. The shoemaker kept it as a pet. The bird soon was able to talk, and was taught to say the names of the emperor, Tiberius, and his two sons.

Octavian came back the victor, and the man showed him one of the ravens. The bird spoke Latin words meaning, "Hail, Caesar the victor!" This pleased the Roman leader so much that he bought the raven for a price of $750 in our money.

A few minutes later the other raven began to talk. This bird shouted, "Hail, Anthony the victor!" Octavian was not pleased, but he did not punish the teacher of the ravens.

Peacocks also had an important place in Roman life. They could not be taught to talk, but they were "sacred to Juno," a goddess who was supposed to help women in marriage. A picture of a Roman wedding shows a peacock standing near the persons being married.

Rural Firemen to Meet Friday at Hortonville Hall

Officials of Local Insurance Companies of Counties Invited

Hortonville — Hortonville Rural Fire department will be host to the rural fire departments and their chiefs, the captains of county motor police, the secretaries and directors of local insurance companies of Winnebago, Waupaca and Outagamie counties at a meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Hortonville Community hall.

The meeting is to be confined to rural fire department problems, and the principal speaker of the evening will be J. E. Kennedy, Madison, Mr. Kennedy will talk on fire protection, fire prevention and safety. He also will explain recent legislation pertaining to rural fire departments.

After Mr. Kennedy's talk a general discussion of various problems that confront the rural fire departments will be conducted.

One of the chief points of discussion will be the consideration of a uniform emblem which may be attached to rural fire department automobiles in order that the police may distinguish those cars from the cars belonging to spectators when answering a fire call, and that the fire cars may be distinguished from other cars when parked on the highway while the men are on active duty. The meeting will be open to any rural fire company interested.

Hortonville Girl Scouts held their second meeting Thursday. The troop went on a hike to the river and later had a marshmallow roast at the Hortonville park. Four new members were admitted to the group. They are Patricia and Beverly Wilkes, Alice Klein and Loretta Oik. There are now fifteen members in the troop. Other girls between the ages of 10 and 14 who are interested may join. Miss Margaret Sambs is the leader.

Bousier Funeral to be Conducted Thursday

Hilbert — Mrs. Theresa Bousier, 65, died unexpectedly Monday noon at Appleton. She was born May 24, 1874, at New Holstein and for the last five years had made her home with her son, who lives five miles west, and a mile north of Hilbert. Survivors are her son, four sisters, Mrs. Anna Stadtmueller Colby; Mrs. Mary Bork, Oshkosh; Mrs. J. F. Marjoribanks, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. J. F. Keleher, Chicago, Ill.; two brothers, Nic Lex Stockbridge and Ed Lex of Quarry.

Funeral services will be held at 8:15 Thursday morning at the El-dredge Funeral home at Hilbert and at 9 o'clock at Sacred Heart Catholic church at Sherwood. The Rev. Peter Grosnick will conduct the services. Burial will be at Colby.

Forty-Hour Devotions Planned at Freedom

Freedom — The annual forty-hour devotions will be held at St. Nicholas church at Freedom next Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday.

A large crowd attended the miscellaneous shower Sunday evening at Schommer's hall in honor of Miss, Clara Rademacher, Wrightstown and Alvin Van Dyke, Freedom. The couple will be married in the near future.

A resident fur dealers' license was granted to Lawrence J. Gonnery by the Wisconsin Conservation Commission at Madison last week.

Pegler's Tour Plans Recall Memories of Floyd Gibbons

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York — Your correspondent is about to take himself on tour for a spell, and the subject of expense accounts naturally presents itself. The subject warms up old memories of Floyd Gibbons, who always gave an impression that, so far as the auditor was concerned, he knew where the body was buried. Actually he didn't go around giving public readings of his expense accounts as inspiration for his colleagues, but from the time that he replaced his wardrobe and baggage which had been lost in the Lancia by shopping exclusively in Bond street, London, he was held in awe by his fellow journalists.

There are some individuals — or there were some, anyway, until a few years ago — who always seemed to have permission to spend at their own discretion, and when Mr. Gibbons that time paid $150 just for a suitcase alone to replace the one which had gone down off the coast of Ireland the rest of the little community of inebriated wretches in London sort of roped him off in a class by himself.

Very likely he would prove to have been the all-time champion of the world if his old statements could be dusted off, for he once crossed the Sahara at the head of his own caravan with only his conscience for his guide. That was an opportunity the like of which befell no other man. Some of his contemporaries while on the march with cavalry columns in the minor league wars had had very valuable thoroughbred horses shot out from under them in poker games, but Floyd's caravan was more tormented.

Sand auditors are very broad-minded, and some are indecently curious for details and like to collect little souvenirs of a correspondent's travels which are called receipts and vouchers. One of the large metropolitan papers often sends representatives off to the north pole or to social events calling for finery not included in the standard, everyday kit of a journalist, and is very liberal in the matter of equipment but requires that these garments be turned in at the property office, with the expense accounts, at the end of the duty. They say the boss wears these Eskimo costumes, plug hats and all, to masquerade.

There was one individual with the A.E.F. who was humiliated deeply by the disallowance of an item of $10 for a pair of binoculars. The auditor did not blink at $25 as this correspondent's share of a banquet for General Bullard or $50 as his share of a banquet for General Pershing, who, naturally, required more elegant fare. But he had been passing on expense accounts of correspondents around the world for years, and he insisted that binoculars could not be had for less than $40.

Situation Was Trying With Luck at Roulette

Your correspondent once was placed in a trying situation when he was handed $500 and assigned to go out skylarking in Miami Beach and describe the scenes in the gambling houses. Wine was on sale in these

DON'T SCRATCH, SOOTHE THE IRRITATION

Quick relief from the maddening itch of eczema, psoriasis, poison ivy, and irritation about the rectum or personal parts is obtained by applying Resinol Ointment. Leave it on over night. It lessens the desire to scratch, and eases the irritation. The soothing effect of Resinol takes the sting from the irritated places and makes you more comfortable. The skin heals sooner, too, with the help of Resinol, as its oily base holds the medication in active contact with the tortured parts.

For gentle cleansing of irritated skin, Resinol Soap is excellent because it has no excess of free alkali and is so refreshing. Many nurses suggest and use Resinol Ointment and Soap — why don't you try them? Buy at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 85, Baltimore, Md.

a dime a dozen, and when they asked him why he didn't buy his on the black bourse he said he was too honest to violate the laws of the country. They didn't want a man that honest in Russia, so they called him home, and he quit.

Ball Clubs Used to Have Trouble Too

Some ball clubs used to give their players $5 a day on the road for eating money, but they would eat at the greasy spoon to knock down money, and when the allowance scale they nearly starved. So the club cut out the allowance and gave them permission to sign tabs in the hotel up to $3.50 a day, but without any kick-back for economy.

A long time ago an eminent American statesman got his start in political life by disallowing an item of 50 cents for a baked potato. This was Senator Donahay of Ohio, then state auditor and widely unknown. A judge said he had been charged 50 cents for a baked potato in a hotel where he was stopping on official business, and Mr. Donahay appealed to the farmers on the hot potato issue, promising to abolish such wicked extravagance if he were elected governor.

The farmers believed him, but by one of those strange contradictions of American government the career of Mr. Donahay, nevertheless, rose steadily together, both being now near the limit of their possibilities.

Executive Committee Will Study Reports

The county executive committee Thursday morning will hear a report of the buildings and grounds committee on its study of the possibility of renting the old post office building for additional office space for the county. A report also will be given concerning the status of the Public Welfare department which this week moved from the old post office to the Odd Fellows building on E. College avenue.

Warmer Than Wool

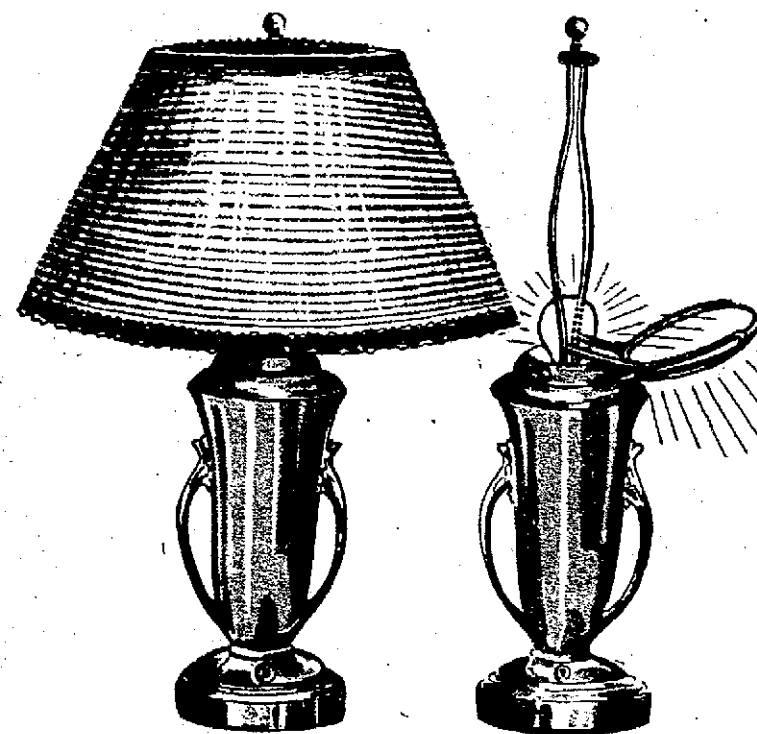

First Quality in Every Way

Sateen Covered Comforters at $3.98 and $4.98 Celanese Taffeta Covered at $6.95

Actually warmer by test than wool! Tests made by the United States Testing Company, Inc., show that "Perma-Fluff" comforters are warmer than wool comforters of the same covering and weight. They remain permanently fluffy. The filling "Perma-Fluff" is a blend of special virgin white cotton and white virgin wool. The $3.98 comforter is a 72x84 inch size, covered with solid color sateen on one side and on the other with a chrysanthemum patterned sateen with solid color border. In rose, blue, brown, gold and orchid. At $4.98 there is an extra large comforter, 78x90 inches, with Paisley or floral pattern with solid color border on one side and a solid color sateen on the other. At $6.95 the comforter is Celanese taffeta finished with a flounce to hold it in place at the foot of the bed. 72x84 inches.
